Special Election On Levy

Knob Noster District Votes Again On Raise Which Was Defeated April 5 by 193-192

The Knob Noster school district will have a special election Tuesday in a second attempt to put through a 50-cent levy increase that was defeated April 5 by a vote of 193-192.

The total levy would be $2 if the levy increase is approved. This would be comprised of the $1 levy permissible by law without an election, 20 cents for the sinking fund, 20 cents for the interest fund, 30 cents for the teachers fund and 30 cents for the incidental fund.

It is the last two items which are being increased. Now the levy for the teachers fund is 10 cents and there is no extra levy for the incidental fund.

J. E. Jageman, district superintendent, explained that the increase is necessary because of an impending decrease in federal and state aid for teachers and incidental expenses.

For the past three years, he said, the state aid for the teachers fund has been based on the number of teaching units in existence at the time the reorganized district was formed three years ago. But according to law, he said, after three full years the district must now base its state aid on the average daily attendance, with one unit being allowed for every 32 pupils.

Recently several rural schools were discontinued and the pupils brought in to the new elementary school at Knob Noster. Some of the classes were quite small, Jageman said, but still each class was given credit for one teaching unit for state aid. Impending change to average daily attendance as a basis for aid means that fewer units will be allowed for the same number of children. It will mean a cut of $8,000 in state aid, since four units will be lost at a rate of $2,000 in aid each unit.

In addition to this decrease, Jageman said the federal government has also rearranged its administration of what it calls maintenance and operation aid, and this will result in a decrease of approximately $2,000 in federal aid for the Knob Noster district.

Jageman said the school board also hoped to replace one of the school buses, since it is now six years old. This item would not be an "extra," he said, since it was included in the budget for the next fiscal year.

The election will be conducted in the Knob Noster High School auditorium, in which the polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m.

House Committee To Decide Soon On Work Bill

JEFFERSON CITY (P)—A House committee will decide one way or another next Tuesday on the controversial "right to work" bill.

But even if it is approved for House action there could be no more than enough time to pass the explosive plan by both houses of the legislature before they must quit May 31. And even if it passed it still would have to be approved by the voters.

The bill, backed by the state Chamber of Commerce some branches of industry and individual union members, would prevent any union shop—in which the new worker would have to join the negotiating union within a specified time or lose the job.

Organized labor, aided by spokesmen of the Missouri Farmers Association, opposed the plan. Three public hearings were held to give both sides an opportunity to present their views. After a short session last night the constitutional amendments committee decided to wait until next week to act.

Added Attraction

Sedalia looks much more attractive now that its trees are in full leaf. Just in time for Fix-Up Week.

The temperature one year ago today, high 77, low 61; two years ago, high 72, low 40; and three years ago, high 82, low 58, with .20 inch of moisture.

Burch Fired From Position On Soil Board

Opposition Victory; New Soil Districts Bill Gets Amendment

JEFFERSON CITY (P)—Sponsors of a new soils district plan gained one goal they sought yesterday in the Missouri House—the elimination of James W. Burch from membership on a planned new state soil conservation commission.

Rep. Charles B. James (D) of Dunklin County, sponsor of the bill said Burch has been responsible for the slow growth of local soil conservation districts in Missouri and consequently, the failure to get about $1 million additional in federal aid.

Burch, as director of the University of Missouri's Agricultural Extension Service, is an ex officio member of the state commission. So is John H. Longwell, dean of the University's College of Agriculture.

Sponsors of the bill agreed to detain Longwell on the planned commission of six-farmer-members appointed by the governor.

The present commission is composed of three members plus Longwell and Burch.

No final action was taken on the bill.

The sponsors lost ground with an amendment adopted during a long argument in the House yesterday. It requires that a majority of the farmers affected would have to approve formation of any new soils district.

James said that would virtually kill the bill and eliminate the $1 million annual federal aid.

But the sponsor of the amendment, Rep. Martin Degenhardt (R) of Perry County, said although he believes in soil districts he does not believe that a small number of farmers should force a large group to form a district.

And Rep. Richard J. Decoster (D) of Lewis county said it looked to him as though the sponsors were trying to cram down the throats of farmers something the farmers didn't want.

MOOSE GOVERNOR — Lloyd Deuschle, installed as Governor of Sedalia Moose Lodge 1294, April 19. Other officers installed were: Past Governor, William Miller; Outer Guard, Walter McMellen; Inner Guard, Brent Samuels; Sgt. at Arms, Jack Gross; trustee, three year term, Ralph Baker; Treasurer, James Gregory; Prelate, Harry Satterwhite; and Junior Governor, Cecil Curtis; Installing officer was Ray Ryan, secretary-treasurer of the Missouri Moose Association. Plans were finished for the coming Spring conference, of the Missouri Moose Association to be held in Sedalia, May 13-15.

Roads Contract Awarded

Will Finish Route Y In Pettis, Extend It West Into Johnson, Ending Near Air Base

A contract to complete Route Y in Pettis County and extend it west into Johnson County now has been awarded by the State Highway Commission to Griesemer Construction Co., Springfield. The contract calls for about 6.8 miles of grading, bridging and surfacing with crushed stone or gravel, from the present Route Y and 127 junction, west of Sedalia west to Temporary Route D in Johnson County. Work on the 5.3 miles in Pettis County will cost about $124,147 and the 1.5 miles in Johnson County about $9,841.

The improvement will begin at the end of present Route Y, at its junction with Route 127, about eight miles west of Sedalia, in Pettis County adjacent to properties of Roy Lange and John Bal-lah. It will extend west to a point adjacent to the Claude Blair and Roy Ray properties where a new location begins. New construction will extend westerly about 3,300 feet through or adjacent to the Lee Wimer, Charles Schobohm and Leslie Miller places. It rejoins the existing road adjacent to the Schobohm property.

It then follows the route of the existing road a short distance to a point adjacent to the Claude Rail property. Another relocation begins there and extends northwesterly about 1,700 feet through the Rail and Mrs. Fannie Rice places. A 190-foot I-beam bridge will be built on the new location over Muddy Creek, adjacent to the Rail property. New construction will rejoin the existing road adjacent to the Rice place.

On west, two more relocations will be made. One begins adjacent to the Guy Mahan and D. L. Sevier places and extends southwesterly about 1,500 feet through the Mahan, and Judge Peithman properties. It rejoins the existing road adjacent to the Peithman and A. E. Dorrance places. The other relocation, about 2,100 feet long, begins adjacent to the Peithman and Dorrance properties and extends southwest through the Dorrance and Roy Anderson farms. It rejoins the existing road between the Anderson and G. M. Lane places.

Work then will continue on west along the existing road to Bee Branch, where a double 9 by 8-foot concrete box culvert will be installed adjacent to the Richard Walder and Stayton Adcock properties, just west of the Johnson county line.

The project extends into Johnson County to terminate at a junction with Temporary Route D, adjacent to the William Lyle place, near the southeast corner of the Sedalia Air Base, about four miles south of U. S. Route 50.

The improvement will be carried forward under supervision of the Commission's District 4 office in Kansas City, of which L. M. Hoskins is district engineer. William Groves, district construction engineer, will direct the work through a resident engineer to be assigned.

This Route Y improvement is among others in 31 counties covering 145.9 miles of highways on which the Commission now has awarded contracts under its March 25 bid call. The work, to cost about $2,901,324, covers 32.1 miles of major systems in five counties and 113.8 miles of supplementary roads in 26 counties.

Bitter Pill for Chiang to Take--

U. S. Said to Be Testing Chiang On Formosa Cease-Fire Line

WASHINGTON (P)—The United States was reported today to have sent a hurry-up mission to Formosa to test Nationalist sentiment for a cease-fire line down the middle of the embattled Formosa Strait.

Another factor credited in top congressional circles with influencing the mission was a reported step-up in Russia's deliveries of late type jet planes to Red China. Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson left yesterday on a 10-day trip to the Nationalist Chinese capital, Taipei. Their plane took off within two hours of the announcement they would go.

It was understood intelligence reports indicate the Soviets recently have increased shipments of jets to the Chinese Reds. Some of these were said to be of the latest types comparable to the best U. S. planes.

It is the understanding in Congress that none of these planes yet has shown up at a series of

Board of Arbitration Votes Down Annexing Pleasant Green Area

A special board of arbitration set up to decide on the annexation of a portion of the Pleasant Green School district to the Knob Noster school district met last Tuesday and decided against annexation.

The proposal was approved by a vote of 331-30 by Knob Noster voters but the Pleasant Green vote ended in a 17-17 tie. The board was appointed by Johnson County Superintendent of Schools, Miss Nellie Wells, and was composed of George Eppright, Vern Rupp, Guy G. Goode and R. H. Boston.

Miss Wells stated she thought the question of a larger district annexing territory from a smaller district probably influenced their decision.

Veto Hangs Over Postal Pay Boost

Eisenhower Balked At Signing Larger Increase Last Year

WASHINGTON (P)—The likelihood of a presidential veto today overhanging a House vote to boost the pay of the nation's 500,000 postal workers an average of 8.2 per cent.

President Eisenhower last year refused to sign a 7 per cent postal pay increase voted by Congress on the ground it was not accompanied by a revenue-raising hike in postal rates. His veto came after Congress adjourned and there was no opportunity to vote on overriding it.

The Senate last month flouted the President's implied threat to veto any postal pay hike of over 7.6 per cent, voting for 10 per cent. The House yesterday followed suit and approved an 8.2 per cent increase which would cost some 171 million dollars a year. The Senate bill is estimated to cost 220 millions.

The 224-189 House vote for the most part followed party lines, with Republicans lining up behind the President and the Democrats behind the mailmen. Seventeen Democrats and 22 Republicans split company with their party colleagues.

The vote was 52 short of the two-thirds necessary to override a veto if the President fires one back at Congress.

Unless the Senate accepts the House figure, which appears unlikely, the measure will go to a conference committee for compromise somewhere between the two figures.

Republican leader Halleck of Indiana told the House approval of the 8.2 per cent figure was "more than risky" and a "tremendous compromise" with the administration's original proposal of 5 per cent.

The House bill, changed on the floor to make the increase retroactive to March 1, would create 21 job-salary grades fashioned after job schedules already in effect for civil service workers.

See Improvements Needed At Airport—

Airport Group Reorganizes At Called Meeting Wednesday

The Sedalia Memorial Municipal Airport Commissioners held their called meeting Wednesday night for the purpose of reorganizing and to discuss improvements necessary at the airport.

The Commissioners elected D. Kelly Scruton as president; Robert "Bob" Younger, vice-president; Charles Maggard, treasurer; and Maj. Bill Padgett as the secretary. Scruton succeeds Younger as president.

During the discussion of the airport it was brought out necessary improvements must be made to conform to the Civil Aeronautics Authority minimum requirements for the purpose of eventually bringing to Sedalia a scheduled air line.

Financial resources were taken into consideration and the Board moved to look into the possibility of securing further federal financial assistance to bring the airport up to minimum CAA standards. The CAA airport engineer in Kansas City is being contacted to meet with the Commissioners and submit to them his recommendations and specifications.

For the present the Commissioners decided it is necessary to develop a secondary turf runway, running approximately north and south. It was brought out on this discussion the Sedalia Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol is most anxious for this development. It will not only benefit the CAP group but will also be a great asset to transient fliers.

Younger is chairman of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce Air Transportation Committee. Future development of the Sedalia airport will be coordinated with Chamber activities and city plans for development.

Other members of the Board are Harold Courtney and Walter "Bus" Jacobson.

Maj. Padgett recently appointed to the Board of Commissioners is also Squadron Commander of the Sedalia CAP, and is now serving as secretary of the board.

The Board further extended the invitation to the Operations Officer of the Sedalia Squadron CAP to attend future meetings and act as liaison officer between the Board and Squadron. The Operations Officer is the person most directly connected with the flying activities of the Squadron and his counsel will be most valuable to the commissioners.

One of the subjects discussed by the Commissioners was the hours of operation of the Airport and further improvements in the services and activities in general.

Health Employees Work Feverishly To Send Vaccine

JEFFERSON CITY (P)—State Division of Health employees worked feverishly today packaging Salk anti-polio vaccine for fast distribution over Missouri.

Dr. E. A. Belden, director of the division's communicable diseases section, said more than 900 pounds of vaccine arrived here early this morning. Another 900 pounds was sent directly to five areas. The 57-distribution areas were St. Louis, St. Louis County, Jackson County, Kansas City and Greene County.

Some 200,000 youngsters — first and second graders throughout the state who have parental permission, and children in the first through fourth grades in the last year's test areas—will get shots free of charge, Dr. Belden said.

The vaccine will go out from Jefferson City late today, Dr. Belden said. It will be administered through county health units where full scale units exist and elsewhere by specially appointed county medical officers.

Most counties plan to start inoculation early next week.

The program, administered at the top level by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, was officially touched off last week when tests showed the vaccine safe and 90 per cent effective.

Cole Camp Student Is Second In FFA Tractor Contest

COLUMBIA (P)—Homer Gaus, 17, a junior at Canton high school, edged out six other district contestants at the 1955 Missouri FFA tractor operators contest here yesterday afternoon to win for himself a new (Ford) tractor.

Competition was sharp, the judges reporting only 42 points difference between Gaus' final score and that of the lowest one in the contest.

Runnerup in the contest was Vern Dean Bohling, 17, a junior in Cole Camp high school. The other contestants were Milfred Harr Cosby; William Kohl, Vandalia; Kenneth Richmond, Nixa; Jimmie Becker, Elkland, and George Fann, Poplar Bluff.

All Units Get Notification Without Hitch

Precisely at 6 o'clock Wednesday night Sedalia telephones began to ring as men of the 35th Division headquarters received the word of the nation-wide national guard test alert. They sprang into action calling the radio stations to pass the word and then began their long lists of men to call. Within ten minutes the men began to pour into the armory and by 6:20 p. m. 37 men had already reported.

The guard units of Missouri and Kansas are in the 35th Division with headquarters here in Sedalia. The Division Commander, Maj. Gen. John C. (Jack) McLaughlin, Sedalia, was in Kansas City on a routine inspection when the alert message was received in Sedalia.

The call came from the Adjutant General of the State of Missouri to Lieut. Col. James Blue who was next in command at the division headquarters. He in turn had to notify the subordinate units of the Division in Missouri. Major Herman Meyers was notified and he too aided in the notification of the other units.

Captain Howard Glavin, commanding officer of the C Battery of the 128th Field Artillery reported at the armory and proceeded to dispatch the men of the battery to their assigned missions. First, Lieut. William May reported for duty at 6:40 p. m. even though he had to drive from his home in Warrensburg. At 6:50 p. m. Captain Glavin reported to Col. Blue that all of the guard posts had been established and were in communication with headquarters. A radio post had been established at the armory to keep in contact with the guard posts.

Guard posts were established at the Missouri Public Service powerhouse, the waterworks, the new water tower and pump station, at Southwestern Bell Telephone exchange, and at several transformer stations.

According to men of the local units who took part in contacting other guard members and units, Bell telephone operators were very cooperative in speeding the word of the alert along and making fast telephone connections.

By 8:30 p. m. 97 per cent of the men were at the posts and march order was given at 9:30 p. m.

License Rush Snags Plate Supply Schedule

Rush of motorists to obtain licenses during the month of April has put a crimp in the license plate supply. In Pettis County alone, the month of April has been the largest single month in the year and the local supply has been exhausted.

To enable the work load of each month to be more evenly divided, the Motor Vehicle Department at Jefferson City has issued local license offices fewer plates than would normally be issued. In other words the licenses were distributed through the state on a normal year report prior to this year.

As a result of the big rush in April this year the plates supply was exhausted. So to compensate for this, the Motor Vehicle Department is now issuing May licenses. These plates will be due in May of 1956 rather than April, giving the motor car owner 13 months of license use.

The local office license still has a few April plates and this supply is anticipated to be exhausted by the last of this week. It is expected the issuing of May licenses in Sedalia will start the first of the week.

In buying a May license prior to when they are actually to be issued to those who have May expiration plates, all other persons will be compelled to pay a year license fee plus one month. In other words, those getting May tags now will be paying for 13 months use instead of the year rate. Those persons whose tags do not expire until May can wait until that month to get their plates.

Portable Piano Brings New Innovation to Music World

AP Newsfeatures

Don't be surprised if one day soon a guest arrives at your party bringing his own piano.

The portable piano, which can be carried in its own case, is expected to be available throughout the country this summer. It weighs about 75 pounds and when packed in its case looks something like a man's two-suitcase.

The guest who arrives with his own piano unsnaps the lid of the case, sets up the piano on a table or on its own detachable legs and sits down to play at a 64-note keyboard. Without legs, the piano is less than 8 inches high, 39 1/2 inches long and 21 1/4 inches wide.

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys. If these conditions bother you, try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Because of built-in volume control, the portable piano is recommended for hospital or sick-room use. The volume can be turned down so low that only the player can hear it, wearing earphones. Or it can be turned up to concert-hall volume.

By adjusting bass or treble, the piano can be made to sound like a guitar, a bass fiddle or a harpsi-

Suitable for use in trailers, small boats or small apartments, the little piano can go along on picnics or motor trips. # Revives Old Idea of Press Check Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert M. Hutchins today revived the once-controversial proposal to create a nonpress, nongovernment agency to check on the performance by newspapers of their public responsibilities.

Hutchins, chairman of the Fund for the Republic, Inc. did so in an address prepared for the opening session of the three-day annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

The editors six years ago rejected the proposal made originally in 1949 by the Commission Freedom of the Press headed by Hutchins. The society said ASNE "is itself, and must be, a continuing committee of the whole on self-examination and self-government," mission he headed in 1949. He told

Hutchins renewed the suggestion today with criticisms only slightly less barbed than those of the commission approximately 400 editors that "most of you have watched the erosion of freedom without a twinge," and accepted incidents in connection with it "as a matter of routine."

With "monopoly newspapers" holding the field in 94 per cent of the cities, he said, the press has a greater duty than ever before to abandon the "entertainment" of readers and devote itself to what he called its purpose—"the enlightenment of the people about their current affairs."

He conceded that "the best American newspapers are as good as any in the world and that the average is high," but he added:

"You are educators, whether you like it or not. You make the views that people have of public affairs. No competition can shake you from that position."

"You will lose it only if you neglect it or abandon it."

Textile, Oil Interests Ask Trade Limits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) said today he does not think backers of a move to curb oil imports have been helped by a committee decision to attach to President Eisenhower's trade bill a provision sought by the textile industry.

The Kansan, a sponsor of the oil amendment, said "no agreement of any kind" had been discussed with him looking toward an exchange of textile state votes for those of oil state senators.

The textile amendment was adopted 11-1 by the Senate Finance Committee yesterday. Several backers of the oil proposal voted for it. Supporters of the foreign trade program embodied in the administration's bill sought to disassociate the approved amendment from textiles lest it lead to a flood of others to give relief to specific commodities.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) said it would avoid "double jeopardy" tariff cutting for many chemicals, chinaware, glassware, metal products, and agricultural and fish products.

However, Carlson noted that the amendment was almost identical with one introduced earlier by 17 senators from Southern and New England states with important textile interests; these senators said they were acting for the textile industry.

The oil amendment, backed by 17 senators, would slap a quota on all petroleum imports equal to 10 per cent of domestic consumption. This would mean sharp cuts in imports based on 1954 levels.

A committee vote on the oil amendment—labeled by its opponents as the most serious challenge to the President's program before the committee—is set for next Monday.

Small Tornado Kills a Woman, Injures Family

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—A small tornado crashed through a tiny community on the outskirts of this city early today, killing a woman and injuring two members of her family.

The victim, Mrs. Odessa Leslie, about 50, was killed when the savage wind demolished her home. Injured were her husband, Ellis, about 54, and a son, Robert Bruce, about 20.

At Davis Hospital here, attendants said neither of the injured men is in a critical condition. The elder Leslie suffered broken ribs and possibly other internal injuries. The son is suffering from shock and severe cuts and bruises.

In addition to the Leslie home, three other houses were damaged severely by the storm. A chicken house and garage were destroyed and several trees were uprooted.

Frank Triplett, chairman of the Jefferson County Red Cross, said the debris left in the wake of the storm indicated that it was a tornado. At Little Rock, a forecaster for the U. S. Weather Bureau agreed with him.

The Leslie home was blown 40 to 50 feet from its site and the other damaged buildings also were twisted from their foundations, said Triplett.

Police Make Investigation Of Shootings

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A series of four shootings, one fatal, in St. Louis streets within an hour early today has started a police investigation to determine if all were the victims of a young Negro madman.

Miss June Lytz, 51, was found fatally wounded in a parkway about 6 a.m. today and two persons reported hearing a shot about 12:30 a.m. Three other victims told police they were fired upon by a young Negro driving a dark colored car.

Patrolman Bernard Goculski reported the body of Miss Lytz, dead from a gunshot wound in the back, was found lying face down in a triangular shaped parkway at Lindell and Theresa avenues.

Goculski said he was led to the body by the women's small black dog while walking his beat. He said he knew the woman because she had a habit of taking the dog for early morning walks.

Miss Lytz operated a massage parlor located a few blocks away. Helen Forrester, a 34-year-old waitress, told police she and two friends were approached by a young Negro about 12:20 a.m.

She said she told him to leave after he called "hey baby." He fired two shots, one striking her in the back. She is in serious condition at City Hospital.

A Negro cab driver, Robert Loggins, reported he honked a car in front of him a few blocks away at about 12:45 a.m. and shortly afterwards the car drew alongside.

Loggins said a young Negro then fired a shot at him but missed. At about 1:30 a.m., Luvida Hodge, 22, a Negro was wounded in an alley behind an apartment.

Eden Formally Elected Leader Of His Party

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden was formally elected leader of the Conservative party today, succeeding Sir Winston Churchill. Conservative and Labor machines began drawing battle lines for the general election May 26.

The choice of Eden, 57-year-old former foreign secretary, was a foregone conclusion, following the retirement of Churchill April 5.

Conservative members of Parliament, Conservative and allied election candidates and the party Executive Committee held a closed 55-minute meeting at Church House.

With the formality of his selection out of the way, Eden addressed the gatherings. Observers said they felt it was mainly a campaign pep talk. Stewards kept outsiders away.

Executives of the Labor party met only a few blocks away to start drafting an election manifesto expected to be approved finally next week.

Clement Attlee, 72-year-old party leader, dashed into the meeting after flying overnight from Montreal. He cut short a Canadian lecture tour to plunge into the campaign.

"It is going to be a good fight," Attlee told newsmen.

Underdogs in the betting, the Laborites launched their attack on Eden last night.

The forecast calls for generally fair west and north, with scattered afternoon or evening showers or thunderstorms on the extreme southeast.

Lows tonight are expected to range from the 40s in the northwest to around 60 extreme southeast. Friday's highs are expected to hit near 90 in the southwest and in the 70s in the northeast.

May or Early June, was located 670 miles east of Luzon today, moving northwest at six miles per hour, the Manila Weather Bureau reported.

King Farouk Offered Job In Movie Group

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Former King Farouk of Egypt, who is reported to be looking for a job, was offered work as a film star today by the Mayer Film Co. of Istanbul.

Little Lewis Is First Born At Air Base

A seven pound-14-ounce boy, son of Capt. and Mrs. Lewis Richardson, had the distinction Sunday night of being the first baby to come into the world at Sedalia Air Force Base.

Mrs. Richardson entered the newly-opened obstetrical ward of the base hospital on Sunday morning and Lewis Curtis Richardson, as the new parents have named their first child, let out his first indignant yell at the world at 9:45 Sunday night.

Dr. Jose M. Fernandez-Padilla, who delivered the baby, reported that Mrs. Richardson had a normal delivery. Both mother and son are doing extremely well and will probably be released by Friday or Saturday. This release date follows the procedure set up by the hospital of keeping obstetrical patients only about five days after delivery.

Being the first patients to use the new obstetrical ward has both advantages and disadvantages. Lewis Curtis and his mother are probably getting more than their share of attention from the nurses assigned to the ward, but the brand-new baby doesn't have the company of other infants in the nursery and Mrs. Richardson undoubtedly gets lonely being the only patient in the ward designed for 10 to 12 other mothers.

The proud father, Capt. Richardson, is an aircraft commander at the Aerial Refueling Squadron. Both he and his wife are natives of Sacramento, Calif., residing now in Warrensburg.

Ike's Program For Asian Aid Is Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's foreign aid program ran into stormy waters in congress today, with Sens. Byrd (D-Va.) and Potter (R-Mich.) demanding elimination of direct economic assistance to U.S. Allies.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) proposed in a separate interview that the President's request for $3,530,000,000 in military and economic help for friendly nations be sliced below three billion dollars.

The vigor of objections and some obvious lack of enthusiasm

Women Show Can Be Force In Community

By DOROTHY ROE

Just five determined women, agreed on a single purpose, can clean up any community, says Nellie Maze Broderson, an energetic grandmother of Palo Alto, Calif.

Mrs. Broderson, named clubwoman of the year in the annual Woman's Home Companion poll, has made local politicians sit up and take notice back in Palo Alto. Working with the woman's club and affiliated groups, she focused county attention on need for a new jail and juvenile home, and currently is getting her second wind to attack other public projects.

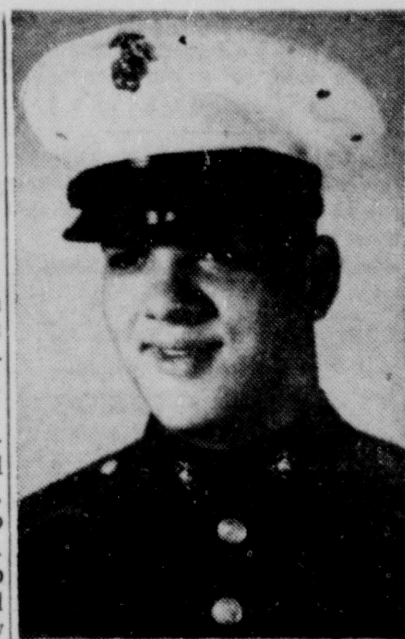

"Once women get started, they'll dig out the truth," says Mrs. Broderson. "And the 30 million women's club members in the United States represent a tremendous force."

This fact has been dawning on politicians on both the national and local scene in recent years, as the nation's women's clubs have turned from social teas to public affairs in increasing numbers. And women's club members, once gently lampooned by cartoonists, often make headlines these days.

The Brodersons moved to Palo Alto in 1951 so husband, Henry, former professor and oil company executive, could retire.

"But I declare we've been busier since retirement than ever before," says sprightly Mrs. Broderson. "Henry's knee-deep in civic and county affairs, and so am I. We didn't plan it that way. But actually this is the first time we've had time to dig into real community problems."

Mrs. Broderson's community crusade began when she happened to inspect the Santa Clara County Juvenile Detention Home, shortly after arriving in California. She found a structure originally built for six boys and six girls

TRANSFERRED TO JAPAN— Pfc. Millard L. Eaton, Jr. of 1st Marine Division, who has spent the past nine months in Korea was transferred to the 3rd Marine Division in Japan after volunteering to spend six more months there after the 1st Division returns to the states. crammed with more than 25 boys and nearly a dozen girls. She started asking questions, found no adequate facilities for the young people to exercise or get fresh air.

Then she went to the county jail and found conditions even more shocking. Appointed civic affairs chairman of the Palo Alto woman's club, Mrs. Broderson got into action, enlisted the interest of PTA groups and the County Federation of Women's Clubs and forced a vote on a $750,000 appropriation for a new jail.

The county farmers said it couldn't be done. But the women did it, and the measure passed by an overwhelming majority.

Today the new Santa Clara County Jail is well on the way to reality, and the women are rallying again for a new juvenile home,

Physician Suggests Ban Against Horn Use To Reduce Accidents

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This city's drivers have been told that if they'd shut up, they'd live longer. A Memphis physician, Dr. Duane Carr, estimated that Los Angeles traffic deaths could be cut 50 per cent by outlawing the sounding of auto horns.

Addressing a one-day symposium on clinical medicine and surgery yesterday, Dr. Carr added:

"In Memphis we passed such an ordinance some 15 years ago, and our traffic accidents dropped 50 per cent in no time. The lack of horns means that we have to look where we are going, and not pass another car unless we know it is safe."

'Minuteman' Leaves Plow for Duty's Call

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—National Guard Maj. A. Kenneth Palmer found himself in the role of an American Revolutionary War minuteman yesterday.

When the "Operation Minuteman" test alert came Palmer was behind a plow on his farm in Wapping.

His wife shouted across the field and, like a minuteman of the Revolution, Palmer left his plow and hurried off to join his unit.

and after that other well-considered goals.

"Women can do anything, once you get them started," says Mrs. Broderson, in New York to receive her award as the country's outstanding clubwoman for 1955.

Expert Tells How Russians Confiscated German's Art

BEHIND IRON CURTAIN— Raphael's Sistine Madonna which was taken to Russia soon after the end of World War II. Now the Russians say they plan to send it to East Germany with part of the art treasures they took out of the museums and was repositories.

(Editor's Note: The Russians have announced that they intend to return several hundred famous paintings to East Germany, including Raphael's "Sistine Madonna" mentioned in this story.)

CHICAGO—How Germany's art treasures were protected from wartime bombardment and then taken by Russian occupation forces has been revealed by Dr. Hans Huth of the Art Institute of Chicago. Using two pamphlets published by the coins into containers and left all the trays and identifying labels. It is doubtful if any order can ever be restored to this mass of missing money, Dr. Huth says.

The Germans sent several important collections to the safety of the salt mines 150 miles west of Berlin. But others were stored in Berlin museum cellars and two concrete structures called Tower Zoo (Z) and Tower Friedrichsain (F) built in what now is the Russian Zone of Berlin.

By 1942 many movable objects from Berlin were distributed throughout Germany and Austria.

Even though Tower F and the Schloss Vaults and other shelters were bombed and fires broke out in some, the losses to the Berlin museums at the time of the surrender were serious but not extraordinary, Dr. Huth says.

The Russian command got jurisdiction over both Towers Z and F on May 1, 1945. There was nothing left in Tower Z by June 8. The Russians had removed everything.

Tower F was not guarded. People looking for food gained entrance and took many museum pieces. On May 6, 1945, there was a fire and an explosion.

There was a second fire May 15 and more than 500 first quality paintings, 400 medieval sculptures and many small objects of decorative arts were destroyed.

Other vaults in Berlin which housed museum objects as well as deposits in mines and elsewhere were ransacked and emptied by the Russians. Much of the art was taken to Russia.

Among the priceless masterpieces confiscated is a triptych, an altar piece, by Netherlands artist Van Eyck, 1390-1414. Its value to the art world is indicated by the fact that a Van Eyck painting recently was sold to the Frick collection in New York City by the Rothschild family in Paris, France, for a million dollars.

Raphael's "Sistine Madonna" and Titian's "Tribute Money," which also were in the Picture Gallery of Dresden, were among the missing masterpieces.

Anniversary Of Historic San Jacinto

SAN JACINTO MONUMENT, Tex. (AP)—One afternoon 119 years ago today a general took a siesta—and Mexico lost an empire.

A band of Texans jumped the general and whipped his army. The story should interest not only Texans. It's important to folks in Arizona, New Mexico, California, Nevada, Utah and Colorado.

Their states became part of these United States, because of the battle of San Jacinto.

Things had gone badly for Texas that spring of 1836 in its fight for independence from Mexico. On March 6 the garrison at Alamo Mission in San Antonio had been massacred by the legions of Gen. Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna.

Santa Anna, the "Napoleon of the West," swept east and camped at the junction of the San Jacinto River and Buffalo Bayou—22 miles east of Houston.

On the afternoon of April 21, as Santa Anna took his siesta and his force of 1,000 squatted confidently behind their breastworks, General Sam Houston's army—outnumbered 2 to 1—charged.

It must rank with history's most vicious and surprising attacks. Shrieking "Remember the Alamo!" the Texans routed the Mexicans in 18 minutes—killing some 630, wounding 280 and capturing 730. Texan casualties: Two dead, 23 wounded.

Santa Anna was captured. Texas had independence, and nine years later joined the union. But the annexation of Texas touched off the US-Mexican war. Mexico broke off relations with the United States and laid a claim to Texas.

The United States won the war, and in a treaty signed Feb. 2, 1848, Mexico ceded that part of the present United States west of Texas and the Louisiana Purchase and south of Oregon. The United States paid Mexico 15 million dollars.

Simple ceremonies today marked the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto. The crowd was expected to outnumber the 700 to 800 men responsible for the holiday—who awakened a sleeping general.

London Newspapers Publish With Belated News, Humor

LONDON (AP)—A columnist in the Daily Sketch started off today: "When I was so rudely interrupted..."

The News Chronicle stoutly denied that it is dead. A Daily Express cartoon showed a gentleman in a bowler hat crawling around with a newspaper in his mouth while his wife explained to a neighbor: "He has to teach rovers—all over again—how to fetch our paper."

And the Daily Telegraph gave thanks that Britons now can stop trying to dig such Yankee jive as "Redwings rip Leafs as Canadians blank Bruins."

The great London newspaper strike was over.

After 26 days in a muddle, the nationally distributed dailies, most of them in expanded editions, set out to tell their 15 million readers what they had missed.

Such chit-chat, for instance, as the retirement of Sir Winston Churchill and that a general election is coming up May 26.

Emulating its New York counterpart after Gotham's big strike, the Times carried a 12-page supplement which summarized the last news day by day.

On the front page—where they always appear—were four solid columns of birth, death and marriage announcements. It was the first installment of a huge backlog.

The Telegraph published an eight-page supplement highlighting the last 26 days and most other newspapers hit the high spots in smaller condensations.

The papers reappeared with such headlines as "Here we are again!" "Read all about it!" and "Good morning all!"

The tabloid Daily Mirror, whose readers like pictures of pretty girls, had to make a choice from an accumulation of nearly four weeks. And what was it? What else but Marilyn Monroe on that elephant?

The Daily Express said the strike had cost the papers four million pounds ($11,200,000).

The Telegraph remarked that attempts had been made to fill the news vacuum by flying in newspapers from the continent and New York. It implied strongly that from being entirely successful, especially the language barrier between English and American sports pages.

"5 Giants hrs. Hearn clobbers Phils 3-3."

Frankly friends, they had trouble with that.

The newspapers took a serious view of the Communist-led strike and called for a government guarantee against any repetition.

The presses were stopped March 26 by a walkout of 700 electricians and maintenance men seeking higher wages.

They belong to the Amalgamated Electrical Trades Union, which is bossed by Communists, and the Amalgamated Engineering Union, which has strong red influence in its London branches. They demanded a raise of $8.19 a week and finally settled for $1.40 for day workers and $1.68 for night

German Author Sees Big China Causing Fight

BONN, Germany (AP)—A theory that the United States and Soviet Russia may one day fight side by side against China is attracting attention in West Germany.

The theory is expounded in "The Limits of Soviet Power," a best seller by a physician who spent nine years in Russian work camps. Not necessarily this specific theory, but the book as a whole has created a profound impression among German officials. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has endorsed the book as "one of the most potent political roundups to appear in Germany since the war."

The author, Dr. Wilhelm Starbuck, is a physician who spent nine years in Russian work camps.

linger, says Red China's population soon will be expanding at the rate of 20 million a year. By official Communist figures the population is nearly 600 millions today.

The only outlet for her population is northern Asia—and Russia will face the alternative of giving up this area to China or fighting, Starlinger writes.

He says the cornerstone of West German policy must be the closest possible partnership with America. He envisages a vast "Atlantic empire" headed by the United States, whose superior power would "bring Soviet Russia to reason and enable serious negotiations that might lead to a durable understanding."

Ward Meeting To End Fight Over Leader

CHICAGO (AP)—The eyes of American business will be focused tomorrow on a structure that looks like an old-world mosque.

It's the Medinah Temple at 600 N. Wabash Ave. The four-story brick building is distinguished from its near North Side neighbors by two plump, round domes.

The theater-type temple was built by the Masonic Fraternity. It has been used for such occasional activities as circuses and conventions.

Tomorrow it will house the annual meeting of Montgomery Ward & Co. stockholders. Their chief business will be to decide whether the 721 million dollar firm will remain under the control of Sewell L. Avery or shift to the command of Louis E. Wolfson.

The battle of these titans of industry will be witnessed by hundreds. There are seats for 4,500 on the main floor and in the balcony. There will be accommodations for an additional 2,000 in the basement. The shareholders can listen—or speak—via a public address system, equipped with mobile microphones.

Chairman Avery and other Ward officers and top executives—18 or 20, in all—will occupy the stage.

Other members of the management team and its candidates for places as directors will be seated on the left side of the main floor. Wolfson and the other members of his squad, including their nominees for the directorate, will be seated on the right side of the main floor.

Polls will be opened in the rear of the house. Most of the 68,000 stockholders have mailed in their proxies. But those who want to vote in person or cast a ballot that will supersede a previously mailed proxy will walk to a parlor containing eight voting tables.

The next item on the program is "questions and discussions."

But the place on the agenda of this item already has drawn a protest from Wolfson.

He has demanded "free and open discussion before the votes are cast."

John Barr, Ward vice president and secretary, rejoined:

"There will be a full opportunity for asking any questions. No stockholder will be forced to vote before he's ready to vote."

Varied Program Given At Happy Workers 4-H

The Happy Workers 4-H Club of Pilot Grove, met Wednesday evening at the Legion Hall.

Twenty members, six guests and four leaders were present. Joan Stoecklein presided over the meeting. Roll was answered by naming "The First Bird I Saw This Spring". Plans were made to attend Share the Fun Night at Prairie Home High School April 29. Mrs. Earl Hayes was appointed to make arrangements.

The 4-H Camp at Sherwood Forest was discussed and plans were made to attend. H. M. Brownfield gave report on dairying and Richard Jeffress reported on setting out the conservation wild life area on the Andrew Stoecklein farm April 2. A $15 cash award for excellence in the wild life conservation program in 1954 from the Edward Love Foundation was announced.

After the business meeting Richard Jeffress conducted a baseball fish quiz. Leaders were Jimmie Brownfield and Joan Stoecklein.

Refreshments were served by Jeanette Kempf, and Jerry Wilenbring. David Jeffress became a member of the club and enrolled in the livestock project.

Mary and Betty Deer, Joan and Gene Stoecklein, David and Richard Jeffress, Jimmie and Ronnie Brownfield, Jeanette Kempf, David Schweitzer and Claudette Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Brownfield, Mrs. Claude Taylor and Andrew Stoecklein attended the recreation and conservation meeting at Rod and Gun Club in Boonville.

Unions' Future Chances at Stake—

Outcome of Strikes in the South May Have Profound Effect On Dixie Labor Relations

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Reporter
WASHINGTON (AP)—The outcome of the wave of strikes now sweeping the South is likely to have a profound and lasting effect on labor relations in Dixie.

If employers win, it will discourage the unions. After years of trying they have to date been largely unsuccessful in organizing Southern workers, although they've made some progress.

If unions win it will prime them into a fresh drive to win bargaining rights from reluctant employers. Right now the unions admit they are pretty well on the ropes. They're still trying but they say they represent only about 10 per cent of the South's workers.

The region's two most significant present strikers are those at the Southern Bell Telephone Co. and the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. The phone strike has idled about 50,000, the rail strike about 25,000. Each affects a wide area of the South and Southeast.

Both strikes, now in their sixth week, started out as isolated labor disputes without too much relation to the South's over-all labor situation.

But the stubborn persistence of both employers and unions in the long and costly walkouts has blown them in the public mind into a sort of object lesson, a test of strength, and a probable foreshadowing of what is to come in the South's labor picture.

It boils down to this: The unions have been taking it on the chin for years. For a quarter century, anyway, they've lost strike after strike. This hasn't made them any too popular. If they can win a few big ones it will be a blow to employers, a boost to unions.

A case in point is the disastrous 1933 textile strike. An AFL union called it in protest against in-work requirements. There were only a handful of union members but when they walked out, hundreds of thousands of nonunion workers joined them. Violence flared and National Guard units were mobilized.

Employers held out and broke the strike. The workers have never forgotten it and to this day the textile industry is the South's toughest for union organizers.

In 1946, right after the war the CIO launched its "Operation Dixie" with considerable fanfare aimed at organizing a million members within a year. The year came and went without the million or anything like it.

The AFL started a rival drive. Both union groups poured millions of dollars into their campaigns. Both fell far short of their goals.

Recently unions have been building up their organizing effort once again. A textile union official says there is probably more organizing activity going on in the South now than there was at the height of "Operation Dixie."

Also, some unions are planning to follow up the rail and phone strikes with stepped-up organizing in their own particular fields in the same general area.

Another reason for the significance being attached to the present strikes is that unions call "maintaining the pattern." Both the rail and phone strikes are final phases of nationwide bargaining campaigns finished some time ago in other areas of the country. The unions want to start new nationwide contract drives and the rest of the south is bound to sit up and take notice.

Actress Is Adjudged Insane After Death Of Baby With Pills

CHICAGO (AP)—A criminal court jury yesterday found insane an actress who was accused of killing her 3-year-old daughter with sleeping pills. A psychiatrist testified she had a "five year history of drug addiction."

The actress, Mrs. Lola Kathryn DeWitt, 26, was accused of causing the death of the child, Fanny Stewart, by giving her an overdose of sleeping pills last February.

Mrs. DeWitt played in "Pajama Tops" in its recent Chicago run. Dr. William H. Haines, director of the Cook County Behavior Clinic, said Mrs. DeWitt was addicted to dope and was committable to the state mental hospital.

Holy Cow! It's An Itinerant...

Gracious to goodness and Holy Cow! There are many ways to get across a merchandising point in advertising, but the one in yesterday's Democrat by Sedalia photographers was a dilly.

The message cleverly contrasted the superior service rendered by the local photographers compared with that of the itinerant photographer who comes to town promoting some kind of a guessing game related to "beyootiful enlargements" for the customer.

Running through the advertisement is also a thread of the idea of buying at home and dealing with local men who can be held responsible for the products they sell.

The photographers are definitely allergic to itinerant salesmen, so much so that they actually suggest local customers who may not want to buy in Sedalia at least patronize established photographers in Marshall, Jefferson City or Warrensburg—keep the money in Central Missouri—but don't let it be carried out of the trade territory by itinerants.

The Sedalia photographers have a new slant on the old Buy at Home theme, and we just can't help saying we got a bang out of reading their advertisement which proves you can be jocular yet serious in reasoning with potential customers. This approach is much preferred to fiery denunciations and bitterness.

We hope Lehmer, Greenwalt and Cole run that advertisement again sometime just for emphasis of a community-supporting theme.

Could Working Farmer Solve Parity?

What would be the result for the farmers if an honest-to-goodness working farmer was appointed to the post of Secretary of Agriculture? Henry Wallace was supposed to be a farmer in Iowa, Ezra Benson is supposed to be a farmer in Utah, but, both men seem to have had difficulty working out a satisfactory economy for the farmer.

Gone are the days when a farmer can raise a crop and count upon selling in the open market at a price which will give a reasonable profit. It must take the heart out of honest, hardworking tillers of the soil to know that they will be able to sell only a part of the harvest in the open market and that the rest will have to go to the government either to be destroyed, wasted, given away or sold at whatever ruinous price the traffic will bear.

Most farmers (and other citizens) don't know the meaning of the word parity, which happens to be the government formula for giving the farmer what politicians decide may be a fair return.

According to a recent study made public by North Carolina's Representative Cooley, chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, when reporting a bill that would renew rigid price supports, out of every dollar's worth of domestically produced food the farmer only receives 13 cents consumable income; the rest goes for labor and investment.

It is obvious that it is not the money reward that keeps the farmer happy. It is his love for the soil—and the joy of seeing things grow and each new season's crop of young livestock and green fields.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round-- White House Finger In ICC Rail Activities

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Some peculiar political influence peddling has been going on inside the Interstate Commerce Commission, the first regulatory body ever established and which has been fairly free of politics in the past.

It involves failure to investigate the taking over of the New York Central by a group of Ike's Texas friends, which Ike's friends didn't want investigated; and on the other hand the ICC determination to investigate the taking over of the Boston and Maine which other Ike-friends do want investigated.

In both cases, Sherman Adams, who really runs the White House while Eisenhower is golfing and while he's in Washington, was the potent gentleman in the woodpile.

In the case of the New York Central, Mr. Adams wanted no ICC probe. He wanted Bob Young, with Texas Oil millionaires, Clint Murchison and Sid Richardson, to take over. There was no probe.

In the case of the Boston and Maine, Adams did want an ICC probe. His friend, Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts, plus friends in New Hampshire and Boston, did not want Pat McGinnis, bright, brash operator of the New Haven Railroad to take over. In this case, Mr. Adams also had his way. There was an ICC probe.

Political Finger-poking

In both cases the inside man who did the job for the White House has been fingered as youngish Owen Clark, politically ambitious new ICC commissioner from Washington state. Clark denies that he got any instructions from the White House. But he does admit that he goes over to the White House frequently to confer with Sherman Adams and his alter ego, Charley Willis, another expert on poking the political finger into commissions.

Commissioner Clark also handles jobs-for-Republicans in Washington state—a peculiar and highly unusual duty for a quasi-judicial commissioner supposed to be absorbed solely with regulating railroads and trucking lines for the public good.

Regardless of Commissioner Clark's denials, Senator Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, plans to get to the bottom of things and see just who is telling the truth.

Here are the complicated but suspicious facts which the public doesn't know about:

In the red hot battle for control of the New York Central between Bob Young and the old NYC interests, the crucial question was who would vote 800,000 shares of NYC stock once held by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, of which Young had been president. Originally, the stock was deposited with the Chase Bank and it looked as if it would not be voted at all. In this case Bob Young was sure to lose and the old New York Central crowd would win.

Ike's Texas Friends

Therefore, Bob Young, himself a Texan, got hold of Ike's close friends, Murchison and Richardson, who can get to the White House day or night, and arranged for them to borrow the money to buy this huge block of New York Central stock. The manner in which they borrowed the money is extremely significant. Young's friend, Allen Kirby, head of the Allegheny Corp., put up $7,500,000. Another $12,500,000 came in large part through Cleveland banks where Young's friends, Cyrus Eaton, is influential.

Sen. Hennings Is Attempting To Clean Political Practices

By Esther Van Wagoner Tuffy
Democrat-Capitol
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Senator Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., (D-Mo.) is being told he's trying to do the impossible in his attempt to clean up politics.

The Missouri Democrat is attacking this "impossible" problem on three fronts:

1. Pass an "effective" modernized federal law on campaign spending.
2. Make a candidate responsible for any "scurrilous campaign literature," including disqualifying the Senate or House from seating him if elected. (A special "example" was the Senate Rules Committee findings on the 1950 election of Senator John Butler (R Md.). The committee report recommended candidates be responsible also for the acts of their campaign managers and that composite pictures and any other misleading device be outlawed.)
3. Condemn officially unfounded charges reflecting on patriotism and loyalty of competing candidates.

There's nothing new in launching an anti-smear campaign. The late Senator Robert A. Taft suggested direct misstatements of facts in a campaign be made punishable by payment of civil damages to the injured party.

As to fighting the smear literature, it has been suggested that a candidate file samples of all campaign literature before circulation. But that wouldn't stop someone else, not the candidate, peddling smears.

Hennings will continue on the bill through April 27.

The World Today-- US Is Off-Cue Effectively

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press news Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States got in on an act where it wasn't supposed to be playing. It used propaganda on Red China when the Red Chinese were supposed to be making some of their best propaganda.

Secretary of State Dulles suddenly warned about a Chinese airpower buildup opposite Formosa just as the Chinese were anxious to appear as peace-lovers to the 28 other Asian-African nations meeting with them at Bandung, Indonesia.

And President Eisenhower asked Congress for $3,530,000,000 in foreign aid, most of it for Asia, just when the Red Chinese were most eager to win over to their side the other Afro-Asians, or as many as they could influence.

The United States, the Europeans, and Russia were not invited to Bandung. The great mass of people represented there are colored and impoverished. All have reason to be concerned about the outbreak of war over Formosa.

And, because of their poverty and their desire to get on their economic feet, the help they had received, or hoped to get, from the United States would be a factor in keeping them from too close alliance with Red China.

On Sunday, just before the Bandung meeting opened, Dulles reported the Red Chinese had greatly intensified their airpower opposite Formosa. Eisenhower followed this quickly with a statement aimed at Bandung.

He said "peace was in grave jeopardy" and that the leaders at Bandung had an "opportunity, at a critical hour, to voice the peaceful aspirations of the peoples of the world and exert a practical influence for peace."

Later in the week Dulles minimized a bit the danger of war over Formosa now. But the statements by him and Eisenhower didn't make it easier for the Chinese at Bandung to look too persuasively peaceful.

And at Bandung two American friends, Iraq and the Philippines, hit Red China with a one-two punch. It seems reasonable to think they discussed with the United States, before they went to Bandung, the role they would play there.

Iraq called communism a new kind of colonialism. The Philippines warned the other Afro-Asians, without mentioning communism, about a new "super-barbarism." The week's events must have had an effect on Chou En-lai, China's foreign minister.

He tore up the speech he had planned to make and delivered another. He took swipes at the United States as a war-monger but protested China's peaceful intentions and said he didn't want to talk about the sore subject of Formosa.

Yesterday Eisenhower sent Congress his message about foreign aid, emphasizing most of it would go to Asia. He didn't list individually the countries which would get some of it.

But a month ago Harold Stassen, foreign aid director, named 12 of the Asian countries represented at Bandung as among those who would get American economic help.

They were Burma, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Nepal, Ceylon, Thailand, Indonesia, Laos, Cambodia, the Philippines, and Japan. All but Burma and Ceylon already were receiving aid.

THE STORY: Jesse James' first and only arrest took place in October, 1865, in Liberty, Mo., but he and 12 companions were released for want of any serious standing charge against them.

X

CAPTAIN MINTER'S house stood on the south side of the Kansas City Road, where it wound down to the river from the west. Below the house, a scant six hundred yards, the road ended abruptly at the Blue Mills Ferry. Beyond the ferry station, on the north bank of the Missouri, it began again, though now in a different direction, and bearing from that point a significant change in name—the Liberty Road.

At 5:45, on Feb. 13, Rush Stepp, an itinerant farm hand, pulled his cloddy team and boxed wagon up to the loading dock east of the house. Captain Minter, in addition to supervising the Blue Mills Ferry, maintained a profitable feed mill on the residence's premises. He came out of the house now, crossed to the dock, nodded to Stepp.

Small talk went along as Rush loaded the sacks and Captain Minter wrote up the account. Rush climbed up on the box, unwrapped the reins. As he did, Captain Minter looked over his head, frowned quickly, nodded in the direction of the Kansas City Road.

"Hold up, Rush. Look yonder there—"

Rush looked, turned uneasily back to Minter. "Mr. Hobart's in a tolerable fret to get this meal."

"You'd best stay right where you are, till we see what they want. There's something familiar about that big man in the lead."

There were 13 of them, all finely mounted, all wearing long cavalry coats of Union blue. Three rode in the lead, 10 hung a little back. Only the three turned off the main road and came for the loading dock.

"Morning, Captain."

"That was Cole Younger

The man who spoke, a big, pleasant-faced man, addressed Minter with the easy familiarity of an old friend. There was, significantly, no recognition in the Captain's reply.

"Yes, sir. What can I do for you?"

"Well now, we've had a long ride and our horses are in need of a good feed. We figured to buy us a sack of your fine meal."

Captain Minter was a merchant of discretion. He did not bother to inquire into the dubious merits of feeding fine-ground meal to hungry horses. He employed the pause in looking at his questioner, and at his two companions.

THE first of these was no more than a boy of 19 or so. He was small, appeared nervous, had a marked peculiarity of blinking his eyes. The other rider was older and taller, though just as slender in build.

"You want the Kansas Winter," said Minter, still watching them, "or the Missouri Spring Hard?"

"Wheat's wheat," grinned the big man. "But seeing's we're Clay County boys, give us the Missouri."

A Missouri wheatsack! A passing horseman said, "make it Missouri," and the whole course of a folklore was altered. Captain Minter was the richer by 90 cents and the first of the fabulous Missouri wheatsacks was aboard the Blue Mills Ferry in the attentive company of the blue-coated horsemen.

Watching the ferry grow small toward the Liberty shore, the Captain, as was his habit in moments of preoccupation, tapped his prominent front teeth with the second finger of his right hand.

"Rush," he said to the staring farm hand, "You know who that big rascal was?"

"Beats me, Cap'n," shrugged Rush.

"That was Cole Younger

bought that sack of meal," said Captain Minter.

GREENUP BIRD and his son, William, cashier and bookkeeper respectively of the Clay County Savings & Loan Association, arrived at the front doors of that institution's fine brick building on the northwest corner of the Liberty square promptly at 7:45 A.M. At five minutes before eight those doors were thrown open to whatever legitimate business might be thus early abroad.

Two ambitious students, early-bound for their classes at William Jewell College upon the hill beyond the square, came out of their front doors and stood a moment sampling the brisk cold of the February morning.

Presently, Jimmy Sandusky, a lad of 15 spied his pal George Wynmore. Waves were exchanged, the two boys starting for their regular meeting-place on the corner opposite the bank. George, a 19-year-old and popular enough around town to have earned the nickname "Jolly," reached the square first and stood waiting for Jimmy to come up.

Those were a fateful five minutes. During their brief course some even-earlier risers were about their particular calling.

They came into Liberty from four directions, in groups of three and four. Young George paid the first group scant heed. It was three horsemen, well dressed, clearly upright in bearing, headed by a most pleasant, impressively large gentleman on a fine bay gelding. Their innocence was further established by the smiling nod of the big man as they cantered past George.

Shortly, however, the first group was joined by a second, then a third and fourth. George counted 13 horsemen in as many seconds, and began to wonder. Even a lad as "jolly" as he was adept enough at frontier arithmetic to see that something unusual was adding up in front of the Clay County Savings & Loan Association.

He glanced excitedly up the street, waving to Jimmy Sandusky to hurry it along.

Dr. Jordan Says-- Scalp Disorders Are More Bothersome Than Dangerous

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

There is a condition of the scalp known as seborrhea or seborrheic dermatitis. This condition is extremely common and is frequently associated with shedding of the skin of the scalp, often extending to the forehead and eyebrows, more or less itching, and sometimes redness.

In severe cases it seems to cause, or at least speed, loss of hair.

Skin specialists usually divide seborrhea into two types, one which is called dry seborrhea or ordinary dandruff and the other oily seborrhea. Ordinary dandruff is difficult enough to treat successfully but oily seborrhea is worse. In oily seborrhea the hair and scalp feel greasy and are hard to keep clean because dirt floating in the air sticks and the hair follicles tend to clog up with oil, tiny scales of skin and dirt, and

This certainly does not make for healthy scalp or hair.

If true inflammation of the skin follows or accompanies seborrhea the condition is called seborrheic dermatitis, and this can be painful.

What is responsible for either form of seborrhea has not been determined. No living parasite or germ has been identified, though there are reasons to believe that some kind of infection may be at least partially at fault. However, seborrhea of either kind commonly starts after the general health has been lowered by such things as infection or fatigue, constipation, anemia, indigestion, lack of fresh air and exercise, and the wearing of tight or ill-ventilated hats are commonly believed to lead to the development of seborrhea.

A quick or easy cure for seborrhea is not available. Any chronic or weakening disease, if present, should be treated. Also, such conditions as anemia or constipation should be corrected. Other than such obvious lines of attack, treatment is aimed at improving the general health and at local treatment of the scalp and the skin itself.

The local treatment of oily seborrhea involves first the removal of the crusts and accumulated fatty material and later the use of stimulating applications. At first the removal of the crusts and debris may be accompanied by the loss

Private Armies Big Problem In Viet Nam Instead of Commies

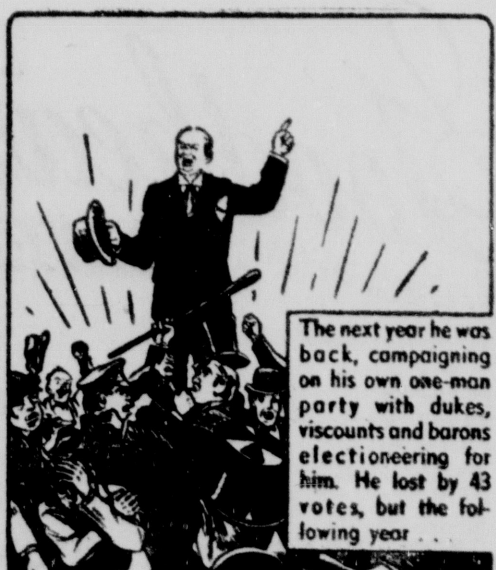

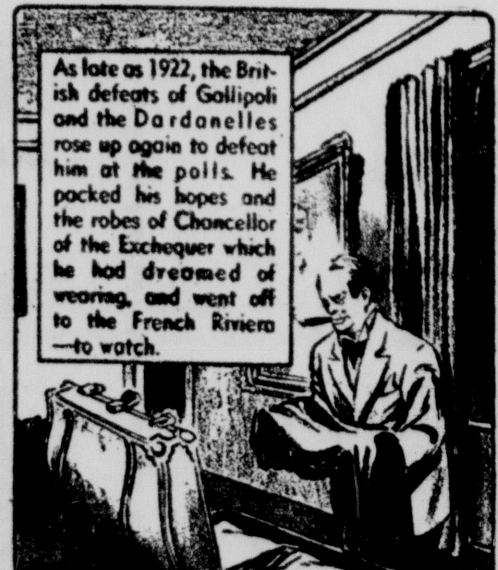

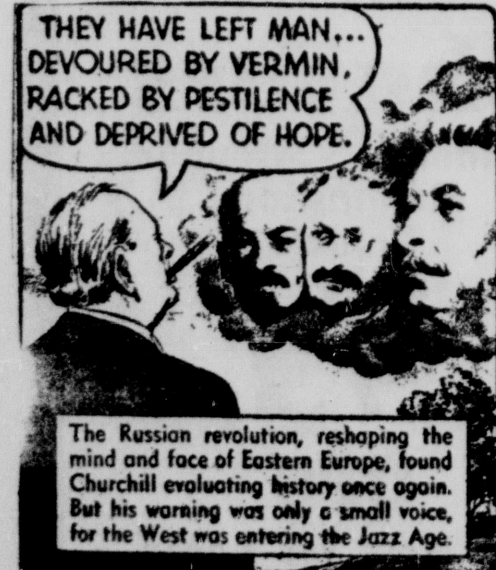

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Private armies, not communism, are his country's greatest problem says the vice-governor of South Viet Nam.

Cao Thai Bao made no attempt to underestimate the Communist threat to his country, he said. But he pointed to gunplay in Saigon recently as a more immediate threat.

"There are 40,000 well-armed and trained fighting men in South Viet Nam belonging to three private armies," he said in the interview.

"Two containing 35,000 men are religious organizations. But the third is political. It's this army of 5,000 men under former regular army Gen. Le Van Vien that's attacking the administration," said Bao.

Big Business Is Elated By Bigger Sales

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The prosperity chorus rises higher today. Booming business is shown in the profit statements of corporations in many fields. Predictions of continuing good times are sounded at stockholders' annual meetings.

Here is just one day's quota. Top men talking optimism head firms in these varied lines: Oil, steel, autos, rubber, glass, chemicals, copper, aluminum, utilities, entertainment, farm machinery, and electronics.

General Electric's president, Ralph J. Cordiner, tells stockholders chances are good that business will continue its upsurge throughout the year.

L. L. Colbert, Chrysler's president, tells stockholders their auto company has a sizable backlog of orders from dealers, making the future look rosy. Similar statements have come from officials of Ford and General Motors.

Record first quarter earnings for U. S. Rubber are reported. Its president, H. E. Humphreys Jr., says "sales and profit for the year could come up to the best we've ever had."

John L. Collier, chairman of B. F. Goodrich, reports his rubber company's sales are running 17 per cent ahead of last year and "the look ahead is promising."

Union Carbide & Carbon, having chalked up a record first quarter, its president, Morse G. Dial, assures stockholders he expects sales for the entire year to top the record year of 1953.

American Cyanamid also reports record sales so far this year and profits well above a year ago. In the once ailing farm equipment industry, Caterpillar Tractor reports good gains in sales and profits.

Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co.'s chairman, John D. Biggers, tells stockholders sales and profits are at a record high. Prospects for the year look good, paced by the "unprecedented residential and school construction."

Profits for the year should be well above last year, Chairman Louis S. Cates tells stockholders of Phelps Dodge. Profit gains are based on "greater sales, as well as higher prices for copper."

Aluminum production is also setting records, the Aluminum Assn. reports, with March topping any month in history.

Robert G. Dunlop, president of Sun Oil, sees 1955 profits rising 5 to 10 per cent above last year. He tells stockholders first quarter figures encourage that belief.

Lion Oil Co. had its best three months in history, President T. M. Martin says. First quarter profits were 31 per cent higher than a year ago.

Steel's booming production pace is shown by a report from Buffalo, Edmund F. Martin, general manager of Bethlehem Steel's Lackawanna plant, says the average force there during March was higher than in steel's boom year of 1953.

Utilities are sharing in the prosperity. Lyle McDonald, chairman of Public Service Electric and Gas, tells shareholders revenues and profits so far this year have topped the previous year.

Lost Parakeets Say Variety of Things About Their Owners
DETROIT (AP)—With spring in the air, parakeets, loaded with the most intimate family information, are escaping from their cages in the Detroit area.

For instance, the William Wrathell family wants Joey back. He is a loud green and is fond of saying, "Well, I'll be a dirty bird!"

At Mrs. Mildred Phipps' home, Chichi has disappeared. Chichi says, "Chichi is a bad boy," and knows just how to prove it.

Tippy is missing from the Charles Johnson home. He's a lover not a fighter and screams, "Hello baby!"

But the Clifford Jakust family is looking the hardest for Skippy. He can best be recognized for his thirsty request:

"Make mine a short beer!"

Maine's Democratic Governor Amazed By Public Relations

By ROBERT N. CROCKER
AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—Eight long months after his election as governor of Maine, Ed Muskie is still a little surprised at the importance of human relations in the job.

He is also startled to find he has by no means been forgotten outside the state.

The 41-year-old Waterville lawyer upset Maine tradition to win election last September as the first Democratic governor in 20 years. As expected, he was much in demand for the next two months until the November elections, stumping the Eastern half of the country for the Democratic party.

He had expected out-of-state speaking invitations to slack off after November. They haven't, although their character has changed.

At first he was asked to speak primarily at political rallies. Now he is receiving more bids from trade associations and schools, and Polish-American organizations since he is of Polish ancestry.

He hasn't been able to accept many. Any governor has his hands full when his state's legislature is in session. But when the legislature is Republican-dominated and the governor is a Democrat, the problems are magnified.

Muskie has been striving for closer cooperation and with individual Republicans feels he has achieved it, at least temporarily. But when Republican leaders meet with him in their official capacity, party lines become hard barriers to crack.

Dealing with legislators and their problems is a big part of the governor's job, but his capacity for human relations has been put to other tests.

Through his intercession and that of members of his executive council, private financing was found for the little northern Maine border town of Ste. Agatha where schools had been closed for temporary lack of funds. The loan extension enabled the town to reopen the schools and tax payments finally put the town back on firm financial ground.

In a more complicated matter Muskie got together the warring factions in the Bates Mfg. Co.—the out-of-state majority stockholder and the management of the big cotton textile firm. The management had had legislation introduced to restrict sale or loans to, or merger with, an out-of-state corporation. They claimed they feared Bates and its 6,000 jobs would be moved away unless prevented by law.

That dispute still hasn't been settled, although the majority owners, Lester Martin and his Consolidated Textile Co., Inc. of New York, have reported offering a five-year contract extension to the Bates president, Herman D. Ruhm Jr.

Many less important problems cross the governor's desk in his daily mail. Although about 90 per cent of the mail can be screened out by the office staff, Muskie still must answer 40 to 50 letters a day. Few of these concern job requests, he said, and he has "surprisingly little mail on pending legislation."

The governor's time with his wife, Jane, and their children, Steve, 6, and Ellen, 5, is limited. Except for walks and rides, there is little chance for recreation away from home without being on official duty. But beyond that, "it's a pretty normal life," Muskie said.

Daylight saving time was first introduced by Germany in World War I and later adopted in England.

Sandstorm Advisory Board Indignant Over Publicity

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—This west Texas city's official sandstorm advisory board, composed 1-2 of women, already is getting sentimental over sandstorms which they swear are thoroughly masculine.

Seven official sandstorms—good, clean sand—already have swept the area. Don't dare call 'em dirty dusters.

The sandstorm advisory board was created here Jan. 7 after women protested the U. S. Weather Bureau's policy of giving feminine names to hurricanes. West Texas sandstorms, the board said, would be given masculine names. The board is composed of three persons, Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing and U. S. Weather Bureau forecaster Bill Percy, hopelessly outnumbered by attorney Barbara Culver.

They hardly had time to frame their certificates of appointment when the first sandstorm struck Jan. 20.

Sandstorm Adam responded to his name like a gentleman, whistled along at 29 miles per hour, stayed a couple of hours, and was careful not to overstay his welcome.

The next was Benson, named after the Agriculture secretary, Ezra

Taft Benson. He deposited an extra half-inch of new surface to the vicinity's grazing lands. Local Republicans swagged.

Sandstorm Casanova danced in took a look at things where men are men and departe' hastily. But the next sandy fellow was a real devil, El Diablo, the board named him. He was a real man, towering 12,000 feet and roaring for hours all over West Texas.

Ely was a hit-and-run fellow. Some folks didn't know he was even around. Then came Farouk, who turned out to be fast but not so potent.

But Gus was different. He stuck a chip on his shoulder and hung around for days. Strictly no gentleman, said Mrs. Culver.

The next sandstorm's name is secret but Democrats are betting his name will be Harry. And rayburn-conscious Texans dread the day sandstorm Sam arrives.

"He's bound to stay a long, long time," they say.

Zulueta Victory Disputed; Calls Decision Lousy

WASHINGTON (AP) — "For the championship, I take him easy," Cuba's Orlando Zulueta said today after winning a 10-round split decision from lightweight champion Jimmy Carter last night.

Carter, whose title wasn't at stake in last night's bout over a national television hookup, didn't have a word to say. But his manager, Willie Ketchum, made up for it. "What a lousy decision," Ketchum howled. "Jimmy beat him. He beat him good."

It was the old story of a puncher, Carter, against a boxer, Zulueta. Jabbing with steady consistency, Zulueta frequently showed contempt for Carter, the heavier hitter, and actually was out-slugging him at the final bell.

Both fighters were over the lightweight limit, Carter at 137, Zulueta at 137½.

Promoter Goldie Ahearn had announced before the fight that if Zulueta won or showed well, the two would be rematched for the title here in June, but that apparently won't happen.

"Sure we'll fight him again," Ketchum said. "But not in this place. I want a real honest decision next time."

Here's how the fight was scored: Referee Harry Volkman, 96-93 for Zulueta; Judge Joe Bunsu 97-94 for Zulueta; Judge Benn Alperstein 97-93 for Carter.

Rookies Give Cards Mound Healthy Boost

The St. Louis Cardinal pitching staff, rated a big question mark before the season opened, has received a healthy boost from a couple of rookies.

Southpaw Luis Arroyo, 27-year-old Puerto Rican, set down the Cincinnati Redlegs 3-0 on five hits Wednesday night in the first game of a long road trip.

Arroyo, who fanned four and walked six, needed help from Right-hander Herb Moford when he became shaky in the eighth but the shutout was continued.

The stocky southpaw spaced the hits in the first four innings and set down 11 Redlegs in order from the fourth to the seventh in a good display of control.

He walked two in each of the seventh and eighth and Manager Eddie Stanky brought in Moford who didn't give up a hit in 11-3 innings. Moford earlier pitched two hitless innings in relief.

Larry Jackson, in his first start for the Birds, dumped the Chicago Cubs on four hits for a 14-1 victory. He went the distance. Stanky has yet to pitch Floyd Woodbridge, highly regarded rookie in spring training.

The Cardinals scored in the first on Red Schoendienst's double and Rip Repulski's single and added two more in the fourth on the Ripper's single and Joe Frazier's homer.

Bums Pushing Consecutive Win Record

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

So now the Brooklyn's have won themselves nine straight games. And all they have to do to take No. 10 the one that would set a modern major league record for consecutive victories at season's start—is beat a gent named Robin Roberts today.

The streak has been getting tougher and tougher for the Dodgers and this afternoon's game at Ebbets Field may be the toughest yet. Roberts, the best right-hander in baseball, hasn't had too much success against the Brooks in the past, but this time the Philadelphia ace is off to his best start in four years.

Robinson is 2-0 thus far, beating the world champion New York Giants twice. Both decisions were by 4-2 counts, and only two of the Giants' runs were earned.

That sort of a push off in his bid for a sixth straight season of 20 or more victories may turn the tide for Roberts against the Brooks. Robin is only 17-21 lifetime vs the Dodgers.

For a time last night, it looked like the Brooks wouldn't have any streak for Roberts to challenge. They were shut out on one hit by Steve Ridzik for 7-2-3 innings. But then he tired and walked in a run that sent the Dodgers off to an adequate signal-calling replacement forced Blaik's hand.

Already the Chicago White Sox, with heavy-footed Walt Droppa playing first and Bob Nieman breaking into their outfield, are being described as a far cry from the base-running "go-go" gang they were under Paul Richards. But the crowds at Comiskey Park like Marty Marion's new order and are yelling for the long ball. George Kell, the club's veteran third-baseman, says it's the best team he's ever played with and will be in there all the way.

Columbia Here Saturday For Track-Baseball

Saturday will be a full day of athletics for the Smith-Cotton Tigers, opening at 10 a. m. with baseball and followed in the afternoon with a dual track meet.

The Tigers are meeting the Hickman Kewpies, Columbia high school, at the Jennie Jaynes' Memorial Stadium in the afternoon in track. In the morning the two schools will meet in baseball.

The baseball game will be a conference tilt in the Central Missouri Conference circuit. The teams play a return game at Columbia on Tuesday but it will not be counted in the conference standing.

The game will be played on the Liberty Park diamond.

Harper Sinks Seven Birdies In Early Play

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Chandler Harper appeared a pretty fair bet today to win the third annual $17,500 Virginia Beach Open golf tournament as first round play in the 72-hole event got underway.

Harper, a native of nearby Portsmouth, Va., is no stranger to the par 69 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club course. The slender star knows every inch of the level 6,065-yard layout.

He's played two rounds to get ready for the tourney. Harper fashioned a 63 Monday and came back with a 64 yesterday in the proamateur curtain raiser to the main event. He sank seven birdies on putts ranging from five to 12 feet in yesterday's play.

Singled out as most likely to give Harper the most trouble were Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and chunky Mike Souchak of Durham, N. C.

Harper and Souchak figured to waste no time getting at each other, being paired in a threesome for the first two rounds today and tomorrow with National Open champion Ed Furgol of St. Louis.

Paired with Ford were Peter Thomson, British Open king from Melbourne, Australia, and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio.

A host of other leading golfers also had their eye on taking home the crown among them Bob Toski, Johnny Palmer, Jim Turnesa, Jack Burke, Ed Oliver and 53-year-old Gene Sarazen.

Souchak and four other pros divided $500 in yesterday's proamateur. The others were Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., Max Evans of Utica, Mich., Marty Furgol of Lamont, Ill., and Walter Inman of Augusta, Ga.

Turf Fans Excited Over Race Between Summer Tan, Nashua

NEW YORK (AP) — Battle lines were drawn and arguments between supporters of Summer Tan and Nashua waxed hotter today as the time approached for their momentous duel in the $100,000 added Wood Memorial at Jamaica Stadium.

Almost forgotten is the fact that only three other 3-year-olds are expected to start in the mile and one eighth event that has sent blood pressures scurrying among the turf folk—especially with the Kentucky Derby only two weeks off.

The largest crowd of the spring is expected to jam the Long Island horse yard for this first 1955 meeting between the two star colts. Bets have already been made which horse will go off the favorite for the race which has produced six derby winners since 1930.

Pet Bat Ray Gets Operation To Restore Eye

PALOS VERDES ESTATES, Calif. (AP)—It took an underwater eye operation to save "Charlie" from being blind as a bat ray.

Charlie, a bat ray by nature and an actor by profession, was bumping into the sides of the big aquarium where he and a host of other finny denizens live. A doctor diagnosed his troubles as damaged corneas.

Since Charlie was a favorite with divers and spectators at the Marineland of the Pacific, a delicate corneal transplant was decided on to restore the 3-year-old, 50-pound bat ray's sight.

Dr. H. George Blasdel, attending eye surgeon at the Los Angeles General Hospital osteopathic unit, performed the operation yesterday—in 22 feet of water. Dr. Blasdel thought Charlie would survive it better under normal pressure in his natural habitat.

Both the doctor and a diver who acted as his assistant wore diving masks during the 23-minute operation, in which a cornea from a "donor" bat ray was transplanted to Charlie's eye. The donor didn't volunteer. He was caught at sea, just as Charlie was originally.

After the operation the donor fish was destroyed to prevent it from suffering. Charlie, under only a local anesthetic, was released from the operating pallet and was soon swimming friskily about.

Scottish Rite Has Meeting--

Kansas City Attorney Says Positive Thinking Essential

Carter Tucker, KCCH, a Kansas City lawyer, was the speaker at the dinner meeting of Sedalia Scottish Rite Club held Wednesday night, April 20, at the Fifth Street Methodist Church. A bus brought 37 Kansas Citizens to Sedalia for the meeting.

Tucker began his talk by telling of the power in the world today. The steam locomotive is being junked, he said, for the great diesel, and while there is something sad about it, it shows the growth of power. The railroads must compete with other transportation. He told of the radar developments set up so that with just a flip of a switch we can have bombers in the air anywhere in the country for protection. Wonderful power, the speaker said, these mechanics, but it takes man to flip the button to turn that power on. There is still something more powerful than all of this wonderful mechanics. It is brain power of man. It takes somebody to push that button.

Scottish Rite Masonry, the speaker told the group, is for the purpose of making men think right. The thinking that keeps men's fingers off that destruction button. It is a teaching that has stood through the ages for constructive power in man himself. The working for an objective, he said, for every Mason is seeking the light that radiates in the darkness.

Then Tucker told two stories. One of the elevator girl, who was the homeliest and sourest looking elevator girl he had ever seen. One day he decided to experiment and lift her from the darkness that seemed to surround her. So when he stepped in the elevator he complimented her. She beamed at him. He asked her if she did not get pleasure from her job of taking people up on the elevator and gave her a light she had never thought of before. Now when she sees him she always smiles. Then he told of the little boy who had watched the building of a great skyscraper but there was a high board fence that kept him out. One day when the building was nearing completion a workman upon top dropped his trowel. Quick as a flash the nine year old boy rushed across the street, climbed the fence and started up the ladder. He was almost at the top when the workman on the ground noticed him and yelled to him to get down from there. The little boy looked down. His face turned white, his legs trembled, he almost lost his grasp on the ladder. He had not realized what it meant to be up so high. But the man at the top of the ladder saw what had happened and he called down to the little boy, "Buddy, look up," and the little boy looked up to see the man above him smiling. He smiled, too. He was no longer afraid. The blood came back to his face, his legs quit trembling, he regained his grip on the ladder and he smiled back at the man at the top.

Communism, the Iron Curtain people are in darkness because there is no contact of light but the value of the Scottish Rite, the speaker said, sharpens the contact of understanding of our fellowman. It gives an objective in life. Nobody can succeed by complaining and grumbling about things. It takes positive thinking, striving for better conditions and when we catch the spirit, the objective. Life can be wonderful. Our job, he said, is strengthening others by bringing the light where light has never shone.

Oma Cox, president of the Scottish Rite Club, presided and introduced the speaker.

Invocation was by the chaplain, Curtis Schuback. Officers and guests at the speakers table were introduced by Cox and guests from Kansas City were introduced by John Chambers, jurisdiction membership chairman. Chambers told the women of the church serving the dinner that a check for $25 on their new church would be mailed to them by the secretary of Scottish Rite of Western Missouri.

Edwin W. Kettleson, former Sedalia, secretary and registrar of Scottish Rite of Western Missouri, also made a short talk.

The music was furnished by the Ararat Shrine quartet from Kansas City. The group was composed of Ray Strindmo, tenor; George Klein, bass; Jim Kaut, lead, and Robert Armour, baritone. They sang several numbers.

The speaker's table was centered with an arrangement of roses, tulips, snapdragons and pansies.

DARTMOOR PRISON, England (AP)—A protest against the closing of the Princetown - Plymouth branch railway line was sounded yesterday by—of all people—prisoners of Dartmoor.

Although most of them are not going anywhere right now, they petitioned the British Railways System not to shut down the branch line, scheduled soon for economy reasons.

A prison official explained: "There is quite a sentimental attachment inside to what they call the 7:35 'Freedom Express.'"

"That's the early morning train for which the men are given a free ticket when they are released."

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An optometrist believes modern children are handicapped in learning because they don't get the opportunity to "do things around the house and outside. There isn't a single top-flight mathematician in this country who is city-born and bred," says Dr. A. M. Skeffington of St. Louis. "You need a proper concept of time and space to be a top mathematician."

Skeffington told Arkansas optometrists that too much emphasis has been placed on 20-20 vision, adding:

"A chimpanzee with 20-20 vision isn't the equal of a man."

Does your family enjoy browned potatoes served with roast lamb or beef? Use medium-size potatoes and boil them for 10 or 15 minutes, then put the par-boiled spuds around the roast about three-quarters of an hour before the roast is done. Make sure you turn the potatoes in the fat drippings in the bottom of the roaster so they will be well coated and sprinkle them with salt and a little paprika.

Are You a Wise Food Shopper?

When the homemaker shops for food at the modern grocery, she pays for more than the food she buys. Packaging and freezing fresh and prepared foods, and marketing—all mean considerable labor which must be included in the cost. The kind of product a homemaker buys depends to a large extent on circumstance. In some cases using partially or fully prepared foods would be the wisest decision; while in others, preparing the food at home would have advantages. Using prepared foods will cost about one-third more than if those foods were prepared at home. But regardless of the kind of food you buy, here are some suggestions to help you do a good job of buying: (1) Read the ads and look and listen for good buys. (2) Shop about once a week in person with a list (3) Read labels and buy the quality food suited to the way you plan to use it. (4) Buy foods in season when quality is high and price low (5) Buy the largest size package or quantity of food that will be used while still of good quality (6) Form the habit of buying by the pint or pound rather than by a quarter's worth or a dozen. (7) Store the food properly as soon as you bring it home. The result will be a better fed family for less money.

Is Fresh Grapefruit On Your Market List?

Fresh grapefruit is popular for breakfast at this time of year. It has a fresh, tartly sweet flavor that stimulates the morning appetite and makes it especially acceptable as the first food of the day. The quality of the current supply of fresh grapefruit is particularly good and the prices are reasonably low, in spite of the smaller than average crop.

Citrus fruits and juices are excellent sources of Vitamin C. Studies show that far too many American diets fail to supply recommended daily allowances of calcium, Vitamin A, and Vitamin C (ascorbic acid). An eating pattern which provides for a serving of citrus fruit or juice every morning for breakfast would result in a great dietary improvement. Citrus fruit at other meals of the day is also a valuable addition to the diet.

Vitamin C is needed to help hold body cells together. Lack of it affects the whole body. Vitamin C deficiency may show up at any place in the body—in skin, teeth, bone, muscles, blood. Severe and prolonged shortage of Vitamin C results in scurvy, but this is a diet deficiency disease now rare in this country.

The recommended daily allowance of Vitamin C (75 mgs.) can be supplied by one medium sized orange,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup orange juice,  $\frac{1}{2}$  medium grapefruit or  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup grapefruit juice.

Canned citrus fruits and juices, and frozen juice concentrates can be counted on to supply Vitamin C, since very little is lost during processing.

Instant orange juice crystals and instant grapefruit crystals, dried from pure citrus juices, are now making their appearance on some markets. These new concentrates require no refrigeration, are light to ship, store easily, and can be reconstituted quickly with the addition of water. According to the processors, 96 per cent of the original Vitamin C content of the fresh juice is retained.

Grapefruit Alaska

3 grapefruit (6 servings), 2 egg whites,  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup sugar, salt, ice cream.

Cut grapefruit into halves and make a larger than usual core. Cut around the sections. Chill thoroughly. Add a scoop of ice cream to each center and cover with meringue (stiffly beaten egg whites, sugar, salt) and bake 2 to 3 minutes in a 550 degree Fahrenheit oven. Serve at once.

Raisins

The raisin industry has designated May 10 to 16 as the time to talk about raisins. In this country, the production of raisins far exceeds domestic consumption, and even though huge quantities are exported each year, when the grape crop is unusually large, there are raisins left over.

There are two main varieties of raisins, (1) the small seedless raisins of the Thompson and Sultan varieties; (2) and the larger Muscat (Muscatel) raisins usually sold with the seeds removed but also sold not seeded, both loose and in clusters.

The small seedless raisins are graded extra fancy, fancy and choice, according to quality, size and appearance. The not-seeded Muscats are graded chiefly according to size, as 1-crown, 2-crown, etc. The 5-crown and 6-crown raisins are extra large sizes known as "Jumbo"; they are practically always sold in clusters.

Seedless raisins are sold in boxes and in cello-type bags. They are used whole in fancy breads, cakes and other desserts.

Seeded raisins are usually sold in boxes but are sometimes sold in cello-type bags. These are the "sticky" kind but they are fine for pudding and other cooked desserts.

Cluster raisins are used as table raisins, packed in lunches and snacks. They are more expensive than the raisins removed from the stems. Both seedless and Muscat raisins are sold in clusters.

It takes about four pounds of fresh grapes to make a pound of raisins, and about the only difference between the two is in moisture content. This means that raisins contain more concentrated amounts of fruit sugar, calcium, iron and other nutrients. Raisins are highly nutritious, and can contribute appreciable amounts of iron to the diet.

Women Often Err In Buying Men's Clothes

By DOROTHY ROE Associated Press Women's Editor

A lot of American men look as if they dress in the dark.

One of the reasons, says Peter Knize of New York and Vienna—a man who makes clothes for such diverse personalities as Marmele Dietrich and the Shah of Iran—is that most of their clothes are selected by women.

That's an understandable opinion for a man who's in the business. But Knize, one of the founders of an exclusive and expensive tailoring firm, points out most men seem to know by instinct what's right in clothes.

"If you leave men alone, they will look fairly decent most of the time," says Knize. "That is, most men. I'm not speaking of the ones who wear horse-blanket sports coats and unpressed slacks to business. I'm talking of the average American businessman."

"His instincts about clothes generally are right. He may be inclined to be ultra-conservative, but that's better than going overboard the other way."

"The real trouble starts when the little woman decides he will look cute in a pink shirt and an orange tie, buys them for his birthday and weeps if he doesn't wear them."

Knize tries to keep the feminine influence out of his male customers' wardrobes, but he admits that even in his shop most of the ties are bought by women.

"Since they insist on buying them anyway, we try to educate them a little," he says. "Actually some women are getting much better in their tastes, after these years of training. But even the ones with the best taste would be doing their husbands a favor if they let them dress themselves."

All this doesn't mean Knize discourages women customers. Far from it. He makes many suits for women, including the glamorous Marlene and the spectacular Carol Channing. It's only when they start trying to run the sartorial lives of their husbands or men friends that he objects.

During a recent New York visit by the Shah of Iran, Knize made $25,000 worth of clothes for him—and that doesn't include things bought by the queen.

"He wanted to select a few things to fill out his wardrobe," says Knize casually. "Suits, vests, topcoats and the like, you know."

One of his favorite customers is song writer Cole Porter, who has in his wardrobe more than two dozen fancy vests made of everything from flowered silk prints to rich brocades. Says Knize:

"He wears them with his evening clothes, instead of the usual white pique vest. He likes them. And they suit him."

Knize believes American men are becoming more clothes conscious, and reports he has sold more full dress suits in the last three months than in the last three years.

Eggzaet Delivery

SHERWOOD, Mich. (AP)—Farmer Vere Mowry has built a machine to bring cartons of eggs up from his basement, deliver them to customers, collect the money and make change. Built out of odds and ends, the machine delivers a carton of a dozen eggs at car window height. The cash register is a tobacco can. The customer makes his own change out of a muffin tin.

Then the machine's conveyor belt hoists another carton up from the basement and puts it in place for the next customer.

A sign on the machine says: "We Have Confidence in Your Arithmetic and Integrity." So far, Mowry figures he's only 15 cents off.

GREEN BEANS with onion topping — Casserole for a queen.

Beans Fit for Iranian Queen

By Cecily Brownstone

Go Recipe Hunting in Florida and you come up with a dish originated by an American homemaker and enjoyed by the Queen of Iran. Stopping for a barbecue supper at the Clearwater Lake cottage of John A. Snively Jr., and his wife May, we snooped into royal eating habits.

The day of our visit, great sides of beef and pork stashed with a pungent barbecue sauce of John Snively's devising — gave off irresistible flavors as they roasted to a turn in a shallow outdoor barbecue pit. We could hardly wait until the meat was carved and offered to us. Brunswick Stew came on, hearty and fiery. But the dish we fell madly in love with was a simple casserole of green beans with an intriguing topping.

As May Snively watched us take second and third helpings of her casserole, she told us that she and her husband had entertained Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi and Queen Soraya of Iran at a similar barbecue supper during their recent American visit. The Queen also had eaten the green bean dish with gusto.

The Snivelys went all out for the Iranian rulers. May and her mother-in-law spent the day supervising the cooking, setting in tables for the dozens of guests expected for the party and arranging flower centerpieces and place cards. Shortly before supper, the chief of protocol for the royal visitors arrived and surveyed the two large cottage living rooms set with tables. He decreed that one of the rooms would have to be cleared of all tables except one, and that the Shah and the Queen would dine there alone.

The thoroughly American and unpretentious hosts weren't prepared for this — but they were good sports. When the Shah and Queen Soraya arrived they were ushered into the room with the solitary table and put into the hands of Spencer, the genial helper who has been with the Snively family for years.

"But," May Snively told us with eyes twinkling, "Spencer is not a polished butler!"

Each time Spencer offered Queen Soraya a dish, she looked him in the eye, asked him what was in it and considered carefully before she helped herself. Pork, beef and chicken were easy for Spencer. But when it came to the special vegetable casserole that was being served with the meat, he lost his patience:

"Listen lady," he said. "It's just beans and stuff."

The Queen dug in.

Does your pastry for one-crust pies ever shrink or buckle? If it does you may be stretching the dough too much during your rolling of it or when you fit it into the pie plate. Or it may be that you are not pricking the sides and bottom of the crust enough before baking.

EYE-TO-EYE—When a rock thrown by a neighbor boy blinded the right eye of 5-year-old Dickie Sparkman, of Hutchinson, Kan., he took his toy rabbit and bear to the hospital with him and insisted that attendants put bandages on the toys' eyes also. Rabbit, bear and boy are doing fine, thank you.

Dresden Homemakers To Have Auction Sale

Dresden Homemakers Club met at the Community House April 12 for an afternoon meeting. Mrs. George Farris and Mrs. Mamie Gentry were hostesses.

The meeting was opened by the members singing, "Tell Me Why". Mrs. C. E. Ferguson gave the devotion. It was decided to have an auction sale April 27 to make money for the 4-H Club.

Mrs. A. B. Cook gave a lesson on basket weaving. Six of the members will have a work day in the near future to learn to make baskets. There were 18 members present. Mrs. Richard Miles and Mrs. Gordon Morris, Dresden, joined the club.

The May meeting will be an all day affair.

Local DAV Gets National Award

A national citation of the Disabled American Veterans will be awarded the Sedalia Chapter No. 7 for surpassing its membership quota for 1954-55. As of April 1 it had 29 members.

Judge Alfred L. English, National Commander of the DAV, commended local chapter officials in a message received here today from the organization's national headquarters in Cincinnati. The DAV nationally seeks to reach a goal of 210,000 members by next July and has reached a new national record for the 14th consecutive year.

In his message Judge English said:

"Congratulations on surpassing your membership quota for this year. This outstanding accomplishment is a tremendous contribution to the cause of the wartime disabled veterans."

Cornell Has Second Fling At Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cornell Borchers, a statuesque beauty from Germany, is having her second fling at Hollywood. This time it appears that she will make the grade.

Miss Borchers is the third German lovely to cause a stir here since the war. Previous entries were Hildegard Neff, who is starring on Broadway in "Silk Stockings," and Ursula Theiss, now Mrs. Robert Taylor.

The new import is tall, flax-haired and shapely and often has been compared to Ingrid Bergman. She does resemble Bergman when she first came to Hollywood — wholesome, intelligent and full of a healthy kind of sex appeal. She has been signed for a picture a year at Universal-International and the bosses have big plans for her. She's now co-starring with Rock Hudson in "A Time Remembered."

This is not the first time she has been here.

"I came to Hollywood a few years ago," she related. "Twentieth Century-Fox brought me here to appear in a picture called 'Mabel and Me' with Dan Dailey. Mabel was a goat, and the story told how it was used for an escape from behind the Iron Curtain."

"It was rather a fantastic story, and it was never made. I waited around four months, doing nothing. Finally I told them I was going home."

And she did. But her return to Hollywood was more triumphant.

After the war, she beauty went to Berlin, where she attended drama school and got small roles in films and plays. Her big break came when George Seaton arrived in Berlin to direct "The Big Lift," starring Montgomery Clift and Paul Douglas.

"He tested about 10 other girls and picked me for the lead," she said. One reason for her choice is that her English is excellent.

Although her first Hollywood career didn't take, she became extremely active in German films. Last year the British Film Academy named her the best foreign actress for her performance in "The Divided Heart." She beat out Hollywood stars for the honor.

Continues TV Show Below Its Standards

NEW YORK (AP) — Sometimes a

TV show's success can be embarrassing to the sponsor. Such is the case with Beat the Clock, seen Saturday evenings on CBS-TV. The sponsor is Sylvania Electric Products Inc. which also makes the annual Sylvania awards to programs which have contributed to the cultural advancement of television. TV critics have ribbed Sylvania for the inconsistency of its lofty aims, expressed at the time of the annual awards, and its own sponsorship of the slapstick Beat the Clock. It is a cinch the show wouldn't stand a chance of winning a Sylvania award. Company officials have suffered the barbs in silent embarrassment with no comeback. The reason is, Beat the Clock is one of the best sponsorship buys in TV. Despite adverse criticism the stunt program achieves high ratings at modest cost. Its current

Nielsen rating is around 33 per cent of sets tuned in—and at a production cost probably only half that of most shows in similar popularity brackets. So the sponsors have swallowed their embarrassment and renewed Beat the Clock for the sixth consecutive year—while planning the fifth annual awards late this year for cultural contributions to TV. The repeats of the Disneyland films on ABC-TV are doing better the second time around than the first. Remember Andy Griffith's hilarious performance as the Georgia

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Thurs., April 21, 1955 7 Mountain Boy in No Time for Sergeants on ABC-TV? He has been chosen for the same role in Maurice Evans' stage production of the same play due to open on Broadway Oct. 20. At any one time, there usually are about 25 airplanes flying across the Atlantic Ocean. Many lizards have tails that can be regrown if they are removed.

WHO SAID DO-IT-YOURSELF SAVES MONEY?—Taking the Do-it-yourself theme seriously is Chicagoan John MacArthur, insert, who is building his own jet T-33 trainer from parts of wrecked Air Force planes sold as junk. MacArthur, an insurance executive, will become the first private owner of a jet plane. Says he: "It cost me five times as much as a new plane." He is having the plane assembled in Van Nuys, Calif.

Pier's Sister Found It Hard To Be a Twin

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What's it like to have a famous twin? "It was hard at first," says Marisa Pavan, who wanted to be an actress. "At first there was a lot of resistance from producers, who thought I looked like my sister. But when they found out that we are entirely different, I had more luck."

Lovely, brown-haired Marisa is the nonidentical twin of Pier Angeli, who is also lovely and brown-haired. But there the resemblance ends. They are entirely different types. It has been Marisa's chore to convince producers of that.

She has pretty well succeeded. After a slow start—she was signed, then dropped by 20th-Fox—her career is getting off the ground. She did some TV films, then landed a good role as an Indian maid in "Drum Beat." That was followed by a prize part in "The Rose Tattoo" with Anna Magnani and Burt Lancaster.

She did a studio one drama with Ralph Meeker, "Dominique," which was well received. Now she's at her sister's home lot, MGM, for "Dianne" with Lana Turner.

Does she get mistaken for her sister on the MGM lot? "No, I don't think that would happen. Pier has a short haircut, is walking with a limp and is pregnant. I don't think people would mistake me for her."

Hollywood has had a number of feuding sisters, notably Olivia De Havilland and Joan Fontaine. Though lately at peace, the two have battled in the past. This has been attributed to their vastly different natures—Olivia being the quiet, introspective type and Joan vivacious and extroverted.

Marisa was asked if she ever fights with Pier.

"Oh, no," she replied. "We have different opinions on matters and we can get quite loud about it. But we never have any real fights."

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Edwards, San Diego, Calif., are visiting relatives in Missouri. Mrs. Edwards is a sister of Mrs. Forrest Hampt.

Mr. and Mrs. Vince Sterner, Omaha, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Edwards, San Diego, Calif., were recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hampt and sons.

Breakfast Soup Era Looms Up Around The Table Corner

By Dick Kleiner
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Picture this: You get up some morning, shower, get dressed and come down to breakfast. Lo and behold, pea soup.

At the moment, such a breakfast menu might throw you into a snit for the whole day. You might even growl at your wife, or your dog. But, if certain people have their way, that picture is going to happen and you are going to like it.

These certain people are VIPs — Very Important Peasoup manufacturers. Also clam chowder. And consommé. Because we are right in the beginning of what one big soup outfit hopes will be the Breakfast Soup Era.

It seems these thirteen tycoons are looking around for new fields to conquer. With the true spirit of American industry, they are ever on the search for new markets. And their roving, eager eyes caught sight of the average American breakfast nook. There they found such ghastly things as bacon and eggs, cereal, waffles, even an occasional kipper — but no soup.

And so a full-scale publicity and advertising campaign is under way, with the avowed aim of making YOU eat soup for breakfast.

They have some pretty nice people on their side. There is, first, M. Louis Diat, former master chef at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel here, who invented Vichyssoise. He says soup is often served in France for breakfast, even "the onion soup." That may explain the political situation there.

Then there was the late great pianist Paderewski, who is supposed to have regularly eaten a breakfast of sauerkraut soup smothered in sour cream. For one reason or another, he died.

Tallulah Bankhead reportedly doted on cold Vichyssoise for breakfast. The Finns eat thick potato soup in the mornings. The Danes have beer soup. The Scots like breakfast barley broth.

So, you see, there is nothing alarming about the prospect of soup for breakfast. The Finns, Danes and Scots would probably shudder at the idea of bacon and eggs. All depends on what you're used to.

A normal, red-blooded American man, used to bacon and eggs, was experimentally fed a big hearty bowl of clam chowder for breakfast. His reaction: "Blyuh!" Translated loosely, that means: "Whassa matter, you stay up all night or something?"

Of course, it may take a few soup infusions for this subject, or others, to acquire the taste for early morning soup. It is conceivable that a few soups from now, this same man might confide to his friends: "You know, I just can't start the day until I have my soup."

The soup people profess to believe that soup is ideal breakfast food for reasons other than increasing the gross sales. It is hot, they say, and who will dare to dispute them? It is also, they claim, filling and it certainly is. And they trot out dietitians who maintain a hot, filling breakfast is what us bacon-and-egggers need.

And it is quick and easy to make. For those among us who find frying an egg arduous, soup may be the answer.

They also suggest combining soup with other more usual breakfast dishes. Try poaching an egg in consommé. Or sprinkling cereal bits over tomato soup. They say nothing about submerging a waffle in chicken soup.

And so, just for the sake of fairness, some morning sit yourself down to a big breakfast of pea soup. Maybe next New Year.

Monkey Trade For Salk Shots Booms In India

NEW DELHI (AP)—Monkey hunting has become one of India's fastest growing enterprises, supplying raw material for polio vaccine.

Two weeks ago it looked as if monkey dealers, restrained by government action virtually banning Simian exports, were heading toward bankruptcy after a relatively short period of prosperity. Today their future appears brighter than ever. The government has relaxed its restrictions, and the Salk vaccine which is made with monkey kidneys has been declared a success — assuring India's monkey trade a steady market. One monkey can yield up to 2,500 vaccinations.

If anything worries monkey dealers, it is that the demand will spur competition and cut profits by forcing a steep rise in the price they pay hunters.

During 1953, when some 1,600 monkeys were exported, dealers here paid jungle hunters about $1.25 a monkey. Last year — the first year Salk vaccine was extensively tested—monkey exports rocketed to 6,400 and prices doubled. Now there are predictions the dealer may be forced to pay hunters $4, with the success of Salk vaccine expected to boost the annual demand 100,000 monkeys.

Speed Test for Time Needed for Paving

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — A test to see how fast a contractor can pave the equivalent of a city block with asphalt will be one of the attractions at the dedication of the Asphalt Institute's new headquarters.

The Corson-Gruman Co. of Washington will make the attempt May 5. It will have two asphalt spreaders, two rollers, and 14 eight-ton trucks ready to spread asphalt in a 1½-inch layer over a street in front of the new building on the University of Maryland campus.

The company has said it expects to pave it in less than an hour.

The Asphalt Institute does engineering research in the use of petroleum asphalt. Formerly located in New York, it moved here Jan. 1.

George Burns Has Chance At Top Spot

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After more than a quarter-century as pin-boy for his wife, George Burns has finally found a chance to do some bowling on his own.

Through the years, Burns of Burns and Allen has built a reputation in vaudeville, radio and motion pictures as the greatest "straight man" in the comedy business. But so far as the public was concerned he was merely the man who set up situations and lines for Gracie to scatter like nine pins.

Now, with television, George is coming into his own as a funny-man. In the weekly show he does a couple of turns as a sort of Greek chorus, addressing the audience directly, explaining what's going on and throwing in a few solo jokes.

"The monologue makes partners of the audience," he explained earnestly and almost apologetically for stepping out of his time-tested role of long-suffering husband.

Burns works a seven-day week, 40 weeks a year, turning out TV shows. There's no phase of the program, except possibly the sponsor's commercials, which doesn't bear the strong imprint of his veteran skills.

A thorough-going extrovert, Burns obviously is as stage-struck today as he was more than 32 years ago when he teamed up with the San Francisco girl named Gracie Allen.

Watching the show, you'd think Gracie was the extrovert. But off camera, she's shy and retiring. George, on the other hand, is an uncomplicated comic who goes on with a routine even when the audience is only a stranger with whom he is having lunch.

"I've been working on a book all winter," he said at the conclusion of one comedy monologue. "I don't know why I wrote a book, except that Hope wrote one and Crosby wrote one and I didn't want to feel left out of things."

Burns at rehearsal is another fellow entirely. He's serious and watches every detail.

Cattle Owners Get Indemnity On Brucellosis

Cattle owners who have brucellosis reactors in their herds may receive federal indemnity for the animals if they have their herds again tested before June 30, Dr. L. A. Rosner, state veterinarian, announced today.

After June 30, indemnities will be paid only for reactors discovered on tests made after that date, Dr. Rosner explained.

Free testing and vaccination of calves will be continued, Dr. Rosner said.

In announcing the date, Dr. Rosner stated officials of the U.S. Department of Agriculture had extended the deadline from April 1 because of the many cattle owners who asked for the tests to eradicate the disease from their herds.

Dr. Rosner stated any farmer who has reactors should contact his local practicing veterinarian who will arrange to make the tests which will be paid for by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

He emphasized that all reactors from previous tests must be eliminated and slaughtered before June 30 for the owner to be eligible for indemnity. Beginning July 1 only those diseased animals found on tests conducted after June 30 will be eligible for the indemnity.

L. C. Carpenter, commissioner of agriculture, indicated today that a more comprehensive and effective brucellosis eradication program for Missouri, which will be outstanding in the nation, will soon be possible. "Such a program can start July 1 provided that Senate Bill 170, which is now awaiting action by the Missouri House, is acted upon favorably," he stated. The bill has already passed the Missouri Senate without a dissenting vote.

Last Year's Corn Yield Tops '34, '35 Crop

Although Missouri's average corn yield last year was less than half that produced in normal years, it was still good in comparison to yields in 1934 and 1935. The average yield last year was about 16 bushels per acre, while the average yield in 1934 was about six bushels per acre, and in 1935 it was eight bushels per acre.

J. H. Longwell, dean of the Missouri College of Agriculture, says research is largely responsible for this difference in yield. Research during the past years in hybrid corn, use of fertilizers, and insect control has resulted in many new corn production practices. And Longwell says the wide use of these new practices by Missouri farmers kept last year's corn yield from falling to the low figures of '34 and '35. In all three years, rainfall was far short of normal, insects were a problem, and blistering temperatures hit at corn near-tassling time.

According to Longwell, this lesson learned from the drought years plus a look at more normal years emphasizes the importance of research. The average Missouri corn yield has risen about 50 per cent in the past 20 years. However, in the same period, the average cost of producing an acre of corn has gone up from about nine dollars an acre to about thirty dollars an acre. Longwell says these figures stress the need for stepping up corn research work to find new ways to increase yield per acre and thus reduce cost per bushel. The application of new findings that would reduce cost would mean much to the economy of Missouri agriculture as corn is grown on about three-fifths of the farms in Missouri.

Six Beef Producers Get Livestock Awards At University Project

Awards were presented to six Missouri beef producers at Spring Livestock Day at the University of Missouri. Cash prizes were given to those winners in the Missouri Beef Cattle Project with the understanding that these awards would be applied to the purchase of better herd bulls. There were two divisions in the project Angus and Hereford. The winners in the Angus division were: first place award of $100, Merle Klocke and Son of Newark; second place of $60, Clifton Smith of Eagleville; and the third place award of $40 went to John Cheeseman of Bogard.

The same cash awards were given producers in the Hereford division with first place going to Ivan Heinlein of Ava, second place to Eldon Ranes of Unionville, and third place to Verle Whiteaker of Cameron.

Factors considered in selecting the award winners were herd management, percentage of calf crop, type and quality of calves, weight of calves, and a written report.

Beef producers receiving awards emphasized the importance of keeping good breeding bulls and the rigid culling of the cow herd in maintaining a successful beef enterprise.

The Missouri Beef Cattle Project is sponsored by the Angus, Hereford and Shorthorn State Breeders Association, Missouri Livestock Association and the St. Louis and Kansas City Chambers of Commerce in cooperation with the Missouri Agricultural Extension Service. No awards were made in the Shorthorn divisions as at least four entries are required and only three were made.

Learned Speech Slowly But Math Fast—

Einstein Had 'Kind of Faith' That Helped Him Keep Hope Through Great Difficulties

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Albert Einstein, intellectual adventurer, said he had a "kind of faith that helped me through my whole life—not to become hopeless in the great difficulties of investigation."

This man, who died Monday, overturned the most traditional notions of physics.

He was the son of middle class South German Jews. From his father, Hermann, an electrical engineer, he first learned about science. His mother, Pauline Koch, gave him his love of music and art.

Einstein didn't speak a word until he was 3 years old, but by the time he was 14 he had taught himself algebra, analytical geometry and integral and differential calculus. None of this had yet been taught him in school. He was also deeply interested in philosophy.

He intended to follow his father's profession and took entrance examinations at the Polytechnic Academy in Zurich, Switzerland. His knowledge and understanding of mathematics and physics amazed his professors.

The young scientist, however, was mainly occupied with physics. He said he early learned to study only what led to the fundamentals and "to turn aside from everything else."

Einstein, who always was passionately proud of his Jewish cultural and spiritual traditions, was married in 1903 at the age of 24 to a Serbian Catholic, Mileva Maric, whom he met in a mathematics class. They had two sons, Hans Albert, born in 1904, and Edward, born in 1909.

Hans became a professor of hydraulics at the University of California and a consultant on soil erosion for the U. S. government. Edward remained in Zurich, and little was known here of his activities.

Einstein's first marriage ended in divorce. When he went to Berlin in 1914 to accept a post as professor of the Prussian Academy of Science, he met again his first cousin, Elsa Einstein, with whom he had grown up. They were married a year later.

Also divorced, she had two daughters. At the time of his second marriage, Einstein had achieved great stature in the scientific world and was beginning to feel the pressure of public acclaim.

Elsa Einstein became her husband's buffer against the world. A woman of culture, she also was practical and had sound business judgment. She took over the management of all of her husband's affairs and there was a saying in Berlin that:

"If you would know Herr Albert, first know Frau Elsa."

Einstein, who cared little for money and rejected offers of large sums for articles and testimonials, was perfectly satisfied to let his wife guide his personal and private life.

"They make such demands on his time," she once said, "he must have peace in which to think."

She died in Princeton in 1936 at the age of 58.

But, with all his love of seclusion, he was often unpredictable.

People who didn't know him expected him to be some sort of super-being. They were astonished on one occasion when he visited downtown Princeton. A small group gathered to watch. He bought a newspaper, then went into a 5 and 10 cent store for a comb and a cake of soap.

Apparently he read all his mail and answered a good deal of it himself, including requests from puzzled high school students.

And there was the occasion when one got by the front door. A 14-year-old pupil at Princeton Country Day School, he was so puzzled over an examination problem he decided to ask Einstein for a solution.

The boy said he thought that two consecutive odd numbers, the difference of whose squares is 56, may be negative as well as positive.

"You're right," said Einstein.

It is not recorded that anyone challenged the young scholar's answer at school the next day. It would have been interesting if someone had.

For, in his way he had the same last word which for years guided top ranking scientists the world over.
